Police Posts Blown Up In Saigon Area

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—While two girl accomplices engaged a guard in conversation, Viet Cong terrorists drove a jeep and a car loaded with explosives into South Viet Nam's national police headquarters today and blew up several buildings.

Four policemen were killed by the blast and terrorist gunfire, reliable sources said. About 20 persons were wounded, including possibly six Americans, the sources said.

The terrorists escaped under cover of machine-gun fire from two other cars outside the police compound. A police guard claimed he hit one of the escaping men.

The explosion seriously damaged the home of the director of the national police, Col. Pham Van Lieu. The headquarters consists of three buildings in a block - long complex of police buildings. Col. Lieu's home is next to the headquarters.

U.S. sources said the attack was probably carried out because of increased police activity in the Saigon area in recent months. U.S. authorities have been making a determined effort to increase the effectiveness of the police force, and the program has been paying off, the sources said.

The attack was the first serious terrorist incident in Saigon in seven weeks. More than 40 persons were killed June 25 when terrorists set off explosives at the My Canh restaurant on the Saigon riverfront.

South Vietnamese forces began a large operation in Quang Tri Province, bordering North Viet Nam, following up a saturation raid there Saturday by B52 bombers of the U.S. Strategic Air Command. A briefing officer said five Viet Cong guerrillas were killed in the initial stages of the operation.

In the air war, U.S. and Vietnamese warplanes flew 218 sorties against the Communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam during the 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m., spokesmen said.

The pilots reported more than 200 buildings destroyed and 75 others damaged, he added.

Four U.S. Navy Skyraiders from the carrier Oriskany, supported by three Skyhawks, hit the Ky Anh military barracks about 80 miles inside North Viet Nam, spokesmen reported, and the pilots said eight buildings were destroyed.

Nine A4 Skyhawks and six A1 Skyraiders from the Oriskany and the carrier Coral Sea pounded targets in North Viet Nam in a series of missions.

Elsewhere in the war:

U.S. Marines killed five Viet Cong in the Da Nang area and recovered the bodies, U.S. spokesmen said.

Vietnamese authoritiees claimed 36 Viet Cong were killed Saturday in a clash in An Xuyen Province, 160 miles southwest of Saigon. No U.S. military personnel took part in the operation.

Twelve hundred more Marines landed at Da Nang Sunday, following up 2,800 who landed at Chu Lai Saturday. In all, 6,400 are to come ashore in the next few days.

U.S. Marine Phantom jets from the Da Nang air base flew air patrol and cover missions over North Viet Nam for the first time Sunday, a U.S. Marine spokesman reported. Six missions of two jets each flew to within 70 miles of Hanoi, he said. Previously Marine planes had been used only against the Viet Cong in South Viet Nam.

U.S. Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs hit a variety of targets in North Viet Nam Sunday and damaged a ferry complex near the border with South Viet Nam, spokesmen reported.

Spills Over From Los Angeles

Bloody Violence Now Moves Into Other California Cities

'Conditions' Behind Riot Emphasized

Johnson Deplores Disregard Of Law During Violence

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson has expressed relief at the easing of the Los Angeles riots and declared "there is no greater wrong, in our democracy, than violent, willful disregard of law."

In a statement issued Sunday, he said the riots stemmed from a national problem — "unjust conditions from which disorder largely flows."

In Washington, Republican House Leader Gerald R. Ford Jr. of Michigan expressed similar sentiments, saying: "These problems are not going to be solved tonight or tomorrow or the next day. Instead of trying to blame any political party, we ought to get to work to solve these problems."

Ford, appearing on the CBS radio and television program "Face the Nation" was asked to comment on a statement by Rep. Prentiss L. Walker, R-Mass., that Los Angeles could blame President Johnson and his "Great Society" for the riots.

Ford said one part of the answer is a "better spirit among people of all races and more effective law enforcement on a local level."

President Johnson said the riots are not simply a symbol of what can happen elsewhere, declaring: "It is also that the Los Angeles disorders flow from a violent breach of rooted American principles."

He said "if men live decently it is because obedience to legal process saved their lives and allowed them to enlarge those lives.

"To resort to terror and violence not only shatters the essential right of every citizen to be secure in his home, his shop and in the streets of his town, it strikes from the hand of the Negro the very weapons with which he is achieving his own emancipation.

"Those who strike at the fabric of ordered liberty also erode the foundation on which the house of justice stands.

"The enforcement of this central truth is the responsibility of all Americans, and is a special challenge to the Negro community and those who are its leaders."

Johnson said, however, that it is not enough to decry disorder.

"We must also strike at the unjust conditions from which disorder largely flows.

"As I have said, time and time again, aimless violence finds fertile ground among men imprisoned by the shadowed walls of hatred, coming of age in the poverty of slums, facing their future without education or skills and with little hope of rewarding work."

Negro Units Infiltrating White Areas

Authorities Report Major Riot Sector To Be Controlled

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Violence spilled over from a Negro area encircled by massed troops and spread today to other Southern California cities.

For the first time in six days of bloody violence, lawless Negro bands carried the attack to all-white sections with sniping, fire-bombing and rioting.

The sudden spread of terrorist attacks came as authorities declared the main riot area—the 42-square mile Negro area in South Los Angeles—virtually under control.

A high-ranking police officer said the attacks Sunday night and early today seemed "planned and organized." He didn't say by whom.

The death toll stood at 31.

After five days of senseless and seemingly spontaneous shooting, burning and pillaging, peace seemed near at dusk Sunday.

Then, with the dark, came spreading violence:

—In Long Beach, 15 miles south of the riot center at Watts, police dispersed 50 Negroes hurling rocks at cars — but not before officer Richard Lefebvre, 24, was mortally wounded by a shotgun blast. Police and Guardsmen imposed a curfew from 10 p.m. to 4 a.m. on a 12-squareblock area of a predominantly Negro district.

—Gunmen, identifed by witnesses as Negroes, shot at homes in all-white Sylmar in the San Fernando Valley.

—Firebombs flared on Hollywood Boulevard in Hollywood, and lumberyards were set afire in Wilmington, at the harbor, and near downtown Los Angeles.

—In San Diego, 120 miles south, Negroes rioted through a 30-block area. A white man was stabbed Three stores were set afire.

—In San Bernardino, 60 miles east of Los Angeles, milling Negroes smashed windows at a drive-in restaurant, but dispersed swiftly when police arrived.

—Police arrested a Negro who tried to set fire to an apartment house in Hollywood.

Although police couldn't halt the sporadic attacks, they claimed virtual control over the Negro section where rioting first erupted six days ago. The first incident: an arrest of a Negro drunken driving suspect by white police. Thousands of rioting Negroes drove police from Watts.

Productive And Progressive Record

'Do-Nothing' To 'Do-Something,' That's Story Of Ohio Assembly

By WILLIAM S. VANCE
Review Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, Ohio—They said it wouldn't get off the ground and, at the outset, that seemed to be the smart thing to say about the 106th Ohio General Assembly.

But instead of piling up at the end of the legislative runway, the 106th found its wings and flew right in the face of the critics who had tagged it prematurely with a "do - nothing" label.

ALTHOUGH a couple of partisan squalls have kept it aloft longer than anyone expected, the Assembly has guaranteed itself a place in the record books as one of the most productive and progressive in years.

It wasn't easy turning this session into a "do-something" venture.

For most of their seven months here, the lawmakers despaired of ever having the chance to write a record of accomplishment.

They came to town in January on the heels of a year - end lame-duck session of the 105th General Assembly which had wrapped up in six weeks about everything Gov. James A. Rhodes wanted for the next two years.

THERE WAS NO money problem as there had been two years earlier. Millions of dollars from bond issues were waiting to be spent and tax receipts were pouring in at a record clip.

But there was no administration program as there had been two years earlier and the 106th was left to grope by itself for objectives to justify its existence.

Despite the much -publicized 16-16 political division in the Senate, the legislature came to grips with more legislation of major social and economic significance than any other in recent history.

FOR MOST of the session it operated in a spirit of bipartisan cooperation that stunned the political sages who had been predicting a chaotic impasse that would make that "do-nothing" tag stick.

Much of the credit for this belongs to the two Senate leaders —Republican Ted Gray, who assumed command with only marginal support from his GOP colleagues, and Democrat Frank King, whose second job as AFL-CIO president gave him new authority over his troops.

Gray and King maintained a close working relationship and, with few exceptions, observed the rules of fair play.

THE POLITICAL split, which finally did become a major stumbling block last week, had some salutary effects. For one thing, it put a burden on

Brief Respite Due For Heat After 94 High

Weatherman Sees No Real Relief As District Swelters

There's a brief respite in sight today from sweltering temperatures that sent the mercury to 94 in the Tri-State District early Sunday afternoon, but the area will have to wait longer for real relief from the heat wave, the Ohio weatherman said.

The temperature is scheduled to rise to 84-89 this afternoon in this section of Ohio, with a reading of 89-95 in the southern area of the state.

The low tonight will be about 65. Tuesday will be mostly sunny and a little warmer, the weatherman said.

The 94-degree reading was reported early yesterday afternoon by Edwin Copeland, U. S. weather observer at Millport. It equalled the high point at-

Goldberg Set To Offer New UN Proposal

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg was reported ready to unveil a new U.S. policy today designed to break the deadlock over Soviet voting rights in the U.N. General Assembly.

Details of the U.S plan were closely guarded. But U.N. diplomats said the deadlock could be broken only by a reversal of the U.S. stand that the Russians must pay their overdue peacekeeping assessments or lose their vote in the General Assembly.

Goldberg was scheduled to outline the new policy in the assembly's 33-nation committee on peacekeeping operations. It was to be his first speech as chief U.S. delegate to the United Nations. He and Secretary of State Dean Rusk worked out the final draft of the plan over the weekend.

The former Supreme Court Justice has given top priority to the U.N. financial crisis since he succeeded the late Adlai E. Stevenson as spokesman for the Johnson administration at the world organization.

The 114-nation body was paralyzed all last winter by the deadlock over Article 19 of the U.N. Charter. This provides that member nations who are two years in arrears in payment of assessments will lose their as sembly vote. The Soviet Union, France and 11 other countries are in this category, but a showdown has been averted so far by a no-vote truce.

One of the major problems Goldberg faced was to find a formula for easing the U.S. position without arousing widespread criticism in the United States. Several congressional leaders openly opposed any U.S. retreat. U.N. diplomats, however, insisted that the assembly could not resume full operations unless the United States abandoned its insistence on enforcement of Article 19.

The issue has become mainly

Mob Assaults Sheriff's Aide In Mahoning

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—A special sheriff's deputy who was beaten by a dozen Negro men after he shot a man outside an East End tavern was reported in fair condition today with cuts and bruises.

Spahr, who is white, was employed by the Youngstown Area Chamber of Commerce to investigate vice conditions. He said he stopped his car early Sunday when he saw Robinson beating his wife.

Spahr told police he intervened, and his gun fired accidentally.

A crowd gathered, some men coming from the tavern, and they jumped Spahr and started beating him, police said. Special police details were sent to disperse the crowd.

Police said they heard shouts of, "We've got guns, too."

Mayor Anthony B. Flask and Police Chief John Terlesky stayed in the area until daybreak with a police detail, but no further trouble was reported.

'Tinkerbelle Is Sighted,' Coast Guard Report Says

FALMOUTH, England (AP)—The Coast Guard reported today that Robert Manry and his little sloop Tinkerbelle have been sighted 20 miles south of Wolfrock, off the Cornish coast of England.

The Coast Guard said that the Cleveland, Ohio, newsman and his 13½-foot sloop were seen at 11:55 a.m. (5:55 a.m. EST) by the fishing trawler Clearwater, which was en route to the Scilly Islands.

Manry's position was within two or three days sailing of his goal—Falmouth harbor.

Manry, 48, has been at sea 77 days. He set sail June 1 on a 3,200 - mile voyage from Falmouth, Mass., to Falmouth, England.

He was last sighted a week ago 265 miles west of Lands End.

Manry's wife, Virginia, returned to Newlyn, Cornwall, Sunday night after a 600-mile four-day voyage in the trawler Excellent. Mrs. Manry, 46, was disappointed at not finding the Tinkerbelle but refused to ask for an official search for her husband.

Manry's newspaper, the Cleveland Plain Dealer, dispatched another trawler, The Excellent, with Mrs. Manry aboard, in hopes of sighting the lone voyager.

Before high noon, the Excellent reported to shore that it spotted Manry. The Excellent said it would return to Penzance, arriving sometime early this evening.

The sea was calm and there was a fair mild westerly wind. If these conditions persist, Manry is expected to reach his goal in 79 or 80 days from the time he set out. He had a maximum target, covered by $50,000 insurance, of 90 days.

Royal Air Force Shackleton planes, which had been searching for more than a week, went out again this morning.

In Falmouth, the entire sailing community went wild with enthusiasm. The news of Manry's success replaced a pall of

100 Believed Dead In Chile In Rain, Snow

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—The week-long storm over southern Chile delayed until today the search for survivors after a Chilean navy ship broke up and sank. More than 100 were believed dead in the storm.

The navy said it would not know until sometime today whether any of the 70 or more men aboard survived after the 850 - ton cutter Janequeo was blown onto the rocks Sunday. The ship sank in Bahia San Pedro, 546 miles southwest of Santiago.

The navy said it expected no more than a handful of survivors.

Rescue ships were forced to turn back because of the danger that the storm would hurl them against the rocks. A larger rescue ship was expected to enter the area today.

The Janequeo sank while trying to rescue the patrol boat Leucoton, which also had been driven aground. The Leucoton seemed in no danger of breaking up, the navy said.

Crucible Due To Idle Furnace For Repairs

MIDLAND — The Crucible Steel Co. announced today it is shutting down its No. 3 blast furnace for rebuilding after a long chain of daily tonnage records, especially during the last year.

Guy F. McCracken, Midland works manager, said: "No. 3 finally has reached its limitation of practical operation. To continue operation would present a potential safety hazard."

He added that "the operating and maintenance personnel are to be congratulated for the performance they achieved from this furnace under adverse and costly conditions for the past two years, particularly during winter weather." No. 3 furnace, one of three blast furnaces at the Midland works, was built in 1917. Crucible's largest furnace, No. 1, was rebuilt last year.

Police Posts Blown Up In Saigon Area

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—While two girl accomplices engaged a guard in conversation, Viet Cong terrorists drove a jeep and a car loaded with explosives into South Viet Nam's national police headquarters today and blew up several buildings.

Four policemen were killed by the blast and terrorist gunfire, reliable sources said. About 20 persons were wounded, including possibly six Americans, the sources said.

The terrorists escaped under cover of machine-gun fire from two other cars outside the police compound. A police guard claimed he hit one of the escaping men.

The explosion seriously damaged the home of the director of the national police, Col. Pham Van Lieu. The headquarters consists of three buildings in a block - long complex of police buildings. Col. Lieu's home is next to the headquarters.

Goldberg Set To Offer New UN Proposal

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg was reported ready to unveil a new U.S. policy today designed to break the deadlock over Soviet voting rights in the U.N. General Assembly.

Details of the U.S plan were closely guarded. But U.N. diplomats said the deadlock could be broken only by a reversal of the U.S. stand that the Russians must pay their overdue peacekeeping assessments or lose their vote in the General Assembly.

Mob Assaults Sheriff's Aide In Mahoning

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—A special sheriff's deputy who was beaten by a dozen Negro men after he shot a man outside an East End tavern was reported in fair condition today with cuts and bruises.

Spahr, who is white, was employed by the Youngstown Area Chamber of Commerce to investigate vice conditions. He said he stopped his car early Sunday when he saw Robinson beating his wife.

Spahr told police he intervened, and his gun fired accidentally.

A crowd gathered, some men coming from the tavern, and they jumped Spahr and started beating him, police said. Special police details were sent to disperse the crowd.

Police said they heard shouts of, "We've got guns, too."

Off Coast Of England

'Tinkerbelle Is Sighted,' Coast Guard Report Says

FALMOUTH, England (AP)—The Coast Guard reported today that Robert Manry and his little sloop Tinkerbelle have been sighted 20 miles south of Wolfrock, off the Cornish coast of England.

The Coast Guard said that the Cleveland, Ohio, newsman and his 13½-foot sloop were seen at 11:55 a.m. (5:55 a.m. EST) by the fishing trawler Clearwater, which was en route to the Scilly Islands.

Manry's position was within two or three days sailing of his goal—Falmouth harbor.

Manry, 48, has been at sea 77 days. He set sail June 1 on a 3,200 - mile voyage from Falmouth, Mass., to Falmouth, England.

He was last sighted a week ago 265 miles west of Lands End.

Manry's wife, Virginia, returned to Newlyn, Cornwall, Sunday night after a 600-mile four-day voyage in the trawler Excellent. Mrs. Manry, 46, was disappointed at not finding the Tinkerbelle but refused to ask for an official search for her husband.

Manry's newspaper, the Cleveland Plain Dealer, dispatched another trawler, The Excellent, with Mrs. Manry aboard, in hopes of sighting the lone voyager.

Before high noon, the Excellent reported to shore that it spotted Manry. The Excellent said it would return to Penzance, arriving sometime early this evening.

The sea was calm and there was a fair mild westerly wind. If these conditions persist, Manry is expected to reach his goal in 79 or 80 days from the time he set out. He had a maximum target, covered by $50,000 insurance, of 90 days.

Royal Air Force Shackleton planes, which had been searching for more than a week, went out again this morning.

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—The week-long storm over southern Chile delayed until today the search for survivors after a Chilean navy ship broke up and sank. More than 100 were believed dead in the storm.

The navy said it would not know until sometime today whether any of the 70 or more men aboard survived after the 850 - ton cutter Janequeo was blown onto the rocks Sunday. The ship sank in Bahia San Pedro, 546 miles southwest of Santiago.

The navy said it expected no more than a handful of survivors.

Rescue ships were forced to turn back because of the danger that the storm would hurl them against the rocks. A larger rescue ship was expected to enter the area today.

The Janequeo sank while trying to rescue the patrol boat Leucoton, which also had been driven aground. The Leucoton seemed in no danger of breaking up, the navy said.

Crucible Due To Idle Furnace For Repairs

MIDLAND — The Crucible Steel Co. announced today it is shutting down its No. 3 blast furnace for rebuilding after a long chain of daily tonnage records, especially during the last year.

Guy F. McCracken, Midland works manager, said. "No. 3 finally has reached its limitation of practical operation. To continue operation would present a potential safety hazard."

He added that "the operating and maintenance personnel are to be congratulated for the performance they achieved from this furnace under adverse and costly conditions for the past two years, particularly during winter weather." No. 3 furnace, one of three blast furnaces at the Midland works, was built in 1917. Crucible's largest furnace, No. 1, was rebuilt last year.

Border Clash Reported At Line Of U.N.

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — Radio Pakistan claimed today that Indian forces had crossed the U.N. cease-fire line in the Kargil area of Kashmir and occupied three border posts.

In the Indian sector of Kashmir, at least two civilians were killed in fighting Sunday night between the Indian army and guerrillas at Sardar Sharif, 18 miles southwest of Srinagar the Indian government radio reported.

The guerrillas were believed to have suffered heavily, the broadcast said.

15,000 Watch Fireworks In Fete's Finale

An estimated 15,000 jammed Wellsville's Central Park Saturday night to witness an elaborate fireworks display which brought the ninth annual St. Rocco Festival to a thundering climax.

Knights of Columbus Council 507, festival sponsors, said the large throng spilled over into two adjacent parking lots and onto the old Salineville Rd. and Buckeye Ave., with some even climbing the ferris wheel to gain a better vantage point.

Reports came in that the bright flashes and the loud bursts from the some 600 aerial shells and 18 set pieces could be seen and heard from 8 to 10 miles up and down the river.

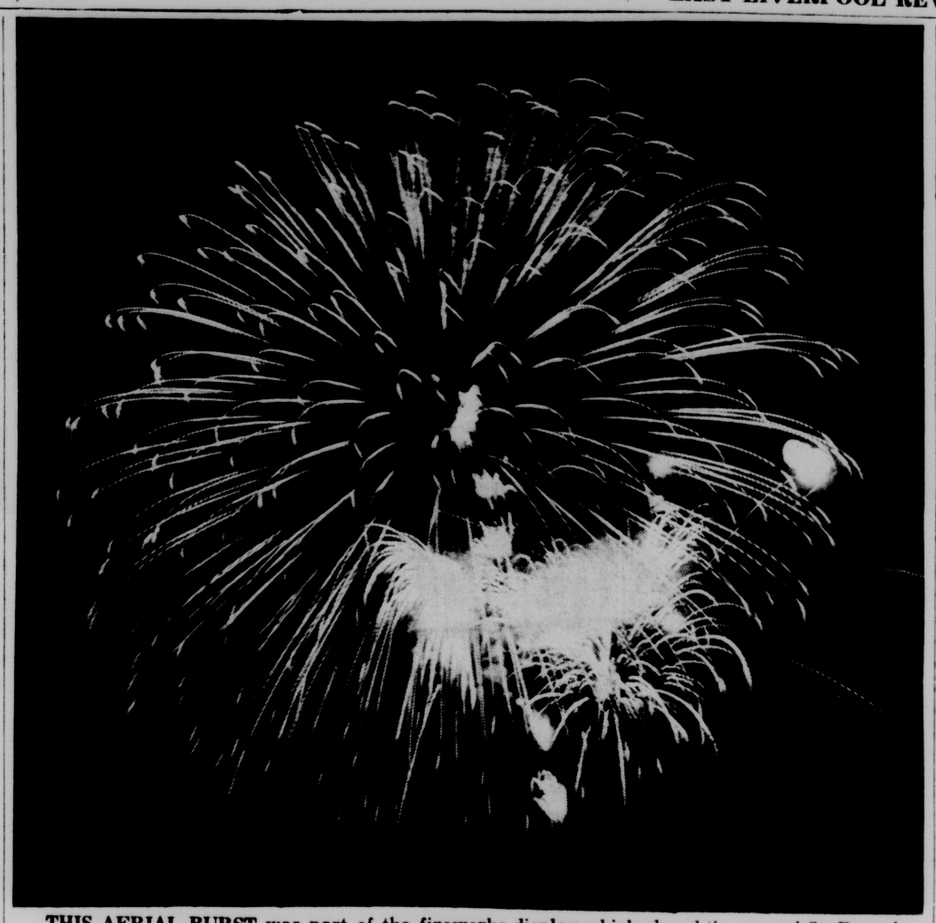

Fred Baldasare, Wellsville safety - service director and publicity agent for the festival, said the crowd was the largest in the history of the fete, the fireworks display, put on by the Zambelli Brothers of New Castle, Pa., was the best ever, and the entire week - long outing was "a tremendous success thanks."

Police said, although traffic was tied up until after midnight, the motorists were very co-operative, with no mishaps reported.

The festival was concluded Sunday morning with Solemn High Mass at the Immaculate Conception Church, with Fr. Gerald X. Curran in charge.

All proceeds from the festival will go toward church and K. of C. council youth projects during the coming year. Frank Roberts was general chairman.

Civil Rights Minister Has His Own Troubles

CINCINNATI (AP) — Civil rights leader Fred L. Shuttlesworth is having some trouble in his own Revelation Baptist Church, where some parishioners think he is too dictatorial.

Things came to a head with a loud altercation at the Sunday services where part of the congregation stood up to signify they opposed the pastor's policies. Some of them booed him and quiet was not restored for more than half an hour.

Both Rev. Shuttlesworth and Smith Tyler Jr., attorney for a group of dissident parishioners, said there was a disturbance but they differed in their accounts of what happened and whether or not a majority of the people present stood up.

Shuttlesworth, a Negro, came to Cincinnati from Birmingham, Ala., where he helped Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., during the bus boycott. He still goes to Alabama frequently to help the Southern Christian Leadership Conference with civil rights work.

Tyler said 200 of the more than 1,000 church members have signed a petition criticizing Shuttlesworth for his "dictatorial fashion" in dealing with deacons and trustees. He said the members want a general meeting to aid their grievances.

Shuttlesworth admitted to newsmen he had opponents but said these included only a handful of people.

"The problem grew out of a disciplinary action and is pursued by others who have little knowledge of Baptist discipline and rules of procedure," he said in a statement. "There were no arrests made during this disturbance of worship because I believe that when passions cool and minds reflect, then the Word of God will prevail."

Police were called to the church during the disturbance, but did not enter it.

School On Mt. Everest Slope World's Highest

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — A school claimed to be the highest in the world has been opened in Nepal — at 17,000 feet altitude on the southern slopes of Mt. Everest.

The school is for Tibetan studies and is financed by funds collected by the first conqueror of Everest, Sir Edmund Hillary.

This is the first school of its kind in Nepal, which has accommodated thousands of refugees who fled their "roof-of-the-world" homeland during the Communist Chinese invasion in 1959.

Sir Edmund Hillary, who collected similar funds for starting schools for Gorkha children in the Everest region, was present at the opening.

Falmouth's mayor, chief of police and other civic officials organized a harbor celebration for Manry's arrival and promptly engaged a band. They scratched around also for American flags.

Regardless of Manry's apparently good physical condition, medical authorities here recommended that his reception be brief and that should be under observation for some hours before he is subjected to a full-scale reception.

Shortly after noon, Manry went aboard the Royal Navy minesweeper Brereton, which came alongside his boat, and asked for a glass of milk.

"It's the first I've had in 76 days," he said.

15,000 Watch Fireworks In Fete's Finale

An estimated 15,000 jammed Wellsville's Central Park Saturday night to witness an elaborate fireworks display which brought the ninth annual St. Rocco Festival to a thundering climax.

Knights of Columbus Council 507, festival sponsors, said the large throng spilled over into two adjacent parking lots and onto the old Salineville Rd. and Buckeye Ave., with some even climbing the ferris wheel to gain a better vantage point.

Reports came in that the bright flashes and the loud bursts from the some 600 aerial shells and 18 set pieces could be seen and heard from 8 to 10 miles up and down the river.

Fred Baldasare, Wellsville safety - service director and publicity agent for the festival, said the crowd was the largest in the history of the fete, the fireworks display, put on by the Zambelli Brothers of New Castle, Pa., was the best ever, and the entire week - long outing was "a tremendous success thanks."

Police said, although traffic was tied up until after midnight, the motorists were very co-operative, with no mishaps reported.

The festival was concluded Sunday morning with Solemn High Mass at the Immaculate Conception Church, with Fr. Gerald X. Curran in charge.

All proceeds from the festival will go toward church and K. of C. council youth projects during the coming year. Frank Roberts was general chairman.

Civil Rights Minister Has His Own Troubles

CINCINNATI (AP) — Civil rights leader Fred L. Shuttlesworth is having some trouble in his own Revelation Baptist Church, where some parishioners think he is too dictatorial.

Things came to a head with a loud altercation at the Sunday services where part of the congregation stood up to signify they opposed the pastor's policies. Some of them booed him and quiet was not restored for more than half an hour.

Both Rev. Shuttlesworth and Smith Tyler Jr., attorney for a group of dissident parishioners, said there was a disturbance but they differed in their accounts of what happened and whether or not a majority of the people present stood up.

Shuttlesworth, a Negro, came to Cincinnati from Birmingham, Ala., where he helped Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., during the bus boycott. He still goes to Alabama frequently to help the Southern Christian Leadership Conference with civil rights work.

Tyler said 200 of the more than 1,000 church members have signed a petition criticizing Shuttlesworth for his "dictatorial fashion" in dealing with deacons and trustees. He said the members want a general meeting to aid their grievances.

Shuttlesworth admitted to newsmen he had opponents but said these included only a handful of people.

"The problem grew out of a disciplinary action and is pursued by others who have little knowledge of Baptist discipline and rules of procedure," he said in a statement. "There were no arrests made during this disturbance of worship because I believe that when passions cool and minds reflect, then the Word of God will prevail."

Police were called to the church during the disturbance, but did not enter it.

School On Mt. Everest Slope World's Highest

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — A school claimed to be the highest in the world has been opened in Nepal — at 17,000 feet altitude on the southern slopes of Mt. Everest.

The school is for Tibetan studies and is financed by funds collected by the first conqueror of Everest, Sir Edmund Hillary.

This is the first school of its kind in Nepal, which has accommodated thousands of refugees who fled their "roof-of-the-world" homeland during the Communist Chinese invasion in 1959.

Sir Edmund Hillary, who collected similar funds for starting schools for Gorkha children in the Everest region, was present at the opening.

Falmouth's mayor, chief of police and other civic officials organized a harbor celebration for Manry's arrival and promptly engaged a band. They scratched around also for American flags.

Running Dispute For Congress

The running battle between the Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) and the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) over who has title to and jurisdiction over hordes of American boys running around in their underwear would seem scarcely worth the attention of an august Senate committee.

On the contrary, the power struggle, as it — rather grandly — has been assessed, already has taken up the time, to little avail, of the late President Kennedy and Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

It concerns primarily the sponsorship of "open" track meets in which both college and other athletes compete, as opposed to "closed" meets restricted to college athletes.

THE AAU for years has certified to the International Olympic Committee the athletes to represent the United States. This was logical in the days when the typical track and field athlete was developed in competition among athletic clubs.

But many years ago colleges began sending their stars into international competition. The rivalry between the coaches — the men behind the NCAA — and the AAU dates back at least to 1928, when Gen. MacArthur was president of the American Olympic Committee.

Three years ago the NCAA established three federations to control track and field, basketball, and gymnastics. The U.S. Track and Field Federation now claims to represent more than 20,000 high schools, colleges and junior colleges, and track and field clubs.

An understanding, in part through the offices of Bobby Kennedy, then attorney general, appeared to be reached in November 1962. The two groups were to forget their differences long enough to permit American athletes to compete in international meets.

However, as President Kennedy subsequently pointed out, "even that coalition (had) been tangled by a whole group of conflicting interpretations." So the President asked Gen. MacArthur to settle the differences.

A compromise appeared to be worked out in January 1963. But after the 1964 Olympics the manpower disputes broke out again.

Most recently, the NCAA attempted to dissuade college athletes to stay out of an AAU meet in San Diego that would influence the selection of the team to contest the Soviet Union at Kiev. Despite wholesale defections, the NCAA boycott was reasonably effective.

And, for the first time since 1958, the U.S. team was beaten by the Russians in the dual meet.

WHAT THE U.S. SENATE can do to resolve the quarrel is questionable. Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., a former champion hurdler, has admitted some doubts but expressed confidence that "if Congress acts and expresses itself in this field it can be effective."

Hearings this week by the Senate Commerce Committee will tell. Right now it looks as if the coaches under the aegis of the NCAA have the troops and the AAU has the mandate.

Too Many Reds, Complain

In the last four years party membership has grown by more than two million people. In the last year, 880,000 new members were enrolled, bringing the membership to more than 12 million.

But the party leaders feel that the party is taking on too many members who just want a free ride at the party's expense.

The proportion of workers, peasants and intellectuals is getting out of balance. The Pravda editorial implies that the party is taking on too many intellectuals and not enough workers or peasants.

Also it's accepting too many people who are not fully dedicated to communism as a way of life.

"Not quantity but quality is necessary," the editorial said and complained that the party branch in Kjarkov, an industrial city in the Ukraine, had been swelling its ranks by accepting everyone who applied without checking his "political, business and moral qualifications."

The Pravda complaint shatters the propaganda pitch that long has been drilled into our heads that all good Russians had come to the aid of their party and not just a miserly 5 per cent plus out of a population of roughly 226 million. million.

The Rogers Legend

By Harold Heffernan

HOLLYWOOD

The great American humorist, philosopher, political pundit and actor who liked to downgrade himself with the drawling "I don't know nuthin'—only what I read in the newspapers," met tragic death 30 years ago in the wastes of northern Alaska—but Hollywood and a great portion of the world at large still treasures him as a living legend whom time can never submerge.

Starting out as a roping cowboy with a hang-dog expression and a mumbling Oklahoma twang, he sputtered out witticisms and observations that sent the nation and its pompous politicians into a tizzy of fun, fright and sometimes panic.

WILL ROGERS eventually became one of the greatest figures in the theater, in the newspapers and on the radio. And had his life been spared another decade, he doubtless would have become Mr. Television.

Among other amazing feats marking the crowded life of this hero from the hill country, he almost won a nomination for president of the United States on the Democratic ticket.

That astonishing tribute occurred during the national convention of 1924. The party was deadlocked on a candidate choice when suddenly the delegation from Oklahoma began a move that quickly developed into a near - stampede. But with typical Rogers deflationary measures, he deftly pulled himself out of contention and restored order.

In the strict sense of the word, Will Rogers was never an actor but he brought more dignity, respect and renown to the profession than had the combined efforts of the most celebrated thespians of this or any other time.

Not one in the Rogers family had ever been in show business, though his great-great-grandfather, Gen. Sam Houston, a hero of the Alamo, president of the Republic of Texas and subsequently a U.S. senator from that state, was one of the great orators of his day and also a man with a shrewd sense of drama.

The direct antithesis of his famous forbear, Will Rogers was self - effacing and shy — and he smartly parlayed those "faults" into fame and fortune.

Rogers was a native of Oklahoman who probably would have ended his days as an inconspicuous cowpoke had he applied for a job at any other than the Miller Brothers' 101 Ranch. The Miller boys not only operated an expensive and prosperous spread, they were also the entreprdeneurs of a traveling wild west show, which competed with the Buffalo Bill and Pawnee Bill outfits of that day.

From that modest beginning, Rogers soon was hitting the small time vaudeville houses and eventually the big time through an engagement at the Hammerstein Roof Garden in New York. It was only a step from there to a star spot in Flo Ziegfeld's famous follies.

Midway in his struggles, Rogers had turned his flop act into a hit by interspersing humorous topical comment into his really adept rope-swinging.

When the Ziegfeld Follies toured the big cities of the nation, audiences were astonished — and local bigwigs frightened —when Rogers would begin taking people and local conditions apart with biting humor and an apparent full knowledge of what was going on in town. Actually, he enlisted newspaper drama critics in each city to fill him in by mail well in advance of the run.

Once he was secure as a headliner, Will Rogers married a girl from back home. Mary Rogers had no theatrical ambitions, but she adored Will and her comforting presence, her patience and willingness to remain in the background profoundly influenced his life. She gave him two children, Will Jr. and Mary, and made a home for him to which he eagerly returned.

This 'n That

The average American has a very poor record as a book reader, compared with certain other nations of the world. In England, for example, the proportion of adults who are book readers is three times as high as in the U.S. The average U.S. library registers only about 25 per cent of the adult population in its area and of these, only about 10 per cent are regular customers.

Some varieties of plants and flowers are capable of producing huge numbers of seeds. Orchid flowers, for example, produce fruits that contain from 200,000 to a million seeds. One pod of the orchid Maxillaria contains 1,750,000 seeds that are as tiny as grains of dust.

The largest public library in the world is that of New York City, which contains 6,950,000 volumes, nine million manuscripts, four million pictures, 100,000 prints and 400,000 maps on 60 miles of shelves.

The distinction of being the largest member of the insect world probably belongs to a Brazilian member of the long-horned wood - boring beetle family. This beetle, "Macrodontia Cervicornis," grows as long as seven inches.

Australians, situated on a continent under the overhang of Asia, are a paradox of history. Culturally they are wholly Western, but they exist in what is geographically "The East."

More than 150,000 new and different words and brand names have been added to the American language by manufacturers through their newspaper, radio and television commercial advertising.

A Good Batting Average

Nationalist Chinese A Threat To Mao

By Jeff Endrst

TAIPEI

When the late John Foster Dulles used to threaten to "unleash" the Chiang Kai-shek troops against Communist China in the late 'fifties, much of the world laughed, although it considered the possibility a "bad joke."

Today, it is a militarily accepted fact that the Nationalist troops on Taiwan and the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu represent a "cork in Mao's throat."

The remaining argument centers around the question as to how much of a dent the Nationalists could make in Peking's armor, how long they could carry the battle on the mainland without American ground support and, above all, whether they could live up to their high advance billing when the chips in Asia are really down.

THERE ARE no simple and conclusive answers. But a concentrated look at Taiwan's 1965 modern armed forces offers some very comforting reassurances.

The basic element in Nationalist military readiness is the people's eagerness to regain possession of the mainland by fighting for it when conditions in Asia are favorable, and China itself is "ripe."

As far as the Nationalists are concerned, both conditions are rapidly approaching the starting line for action. While others may not fully agree, they freely or grudgingly accept the claim that about half of Peking's 3,000,000 standing army is tied up in the South China Sea area because of the constant "invasion" threat from Taiwan.

Many Allied strategists sincerely believe that Communist China has not openly entered the Viet Nam war in fear of an American - backed Chiang Kai-shek countermove on the mainland.

In order to come to a reasonable assessment of Taiwan's military strength today, one must discard some old political notions. They paint the Nationalists as a bunch of aging and bankrupt social outcasts with fascist inclinations who brood over mainland recovery in a political vacuum.

ONE MUST note that since the tired and disillusioned Chiang Kai-shek troops took refuge on Taiwan in 1948, the United States has pumped $2.5 billion in military assistance to help train millions of men into a modern, precision military machine whose weapons rival anything the Communists have, with the exception of the atomic bomb which Peking could not now deliver but the United States could.

Although the U.S. discontinued its economic assistance to Taiwan last month, its military aid continues unabated. Equipment and training of the Nationalist troops is geared to military potential and strategy of the Communists.

The bulk of the 600,000 army, navy, air force and special forces units is under 20 years of age. The average age, counting non - commissioned officers and the entire brass, is 24 years of age, which is one of the lowest in the world. The literacy of the Nationalist armed forces is exceptional, for an Asian or any other army — almost 100 per cent.

Each year, some 200,000 new recruits get a two - year compulsory training (three years in the air force and in the navy). Another half a million men are in active military reserve, undergoing frequent training with new weapons and updated military strategy. During general mobilization, Taiwan could muster another million men with solid military training behind them.

THE ARMY has a standing, highly mobile force of 400,000 men of whom about 100,000 live a perpetual underground existance barely 1½ miles off the China mainlands, on Quemoy and Matsu islands. They have American - supplied medium-size tanks, and Nike-Hercules missiles.

The air force counts some 80,000 men, including several thousand highly trained pilots who are currently phasing out the F104G fighters (comparable or better than the MIG-19), replacing them with the F5A, the supersonic jet answer to the Communist MIG-21.

It is believed that the Nationcraft under their own command. In addition, the Taiwan straights are guarded by a sizeable number of American jets stationed on the Pescadore Islands between Taiwan and the mainland.

It is no secret any more than the Nationalists operate a small force of high - flying U-2's whose Chinese pilots have reportedly contributed to Washington's advance knowledge of Peking's atomic developments.

These pilots have instructions to destroy their planes, equipment and themselves in the event of emergency. The Taipei government claims that these instructions have been obeyed.

The Nationalist navy and marine corps count another 80,000 men. Their main function is to complement the duties of the U.S. 7th Fleet. The two navies are pretty much integrated, with the Nationalists concentrating mainly on combat escort, anti-submarine and anti-mine warfare and amphibious operations.

Officials of the War Region Services Team plan the strategy of the army's advance columns, entrusted to highly trained dialect specialists trained in military sabotage as well as in political reconstruction of the mainland.

A sizable U.S. military mission on Taiwan accounts for some of these accomplishments. Hundreds of Chinese specialists come to the United States for advance military studies and training. But the bulk of Taiwan's military effort and accomplishment is strictly a local product.

Even the Chinese women on Taiwan have been mobilized. Over one million women of all ages have gone through training — from mending soldiers' sock to manning a sub-machine gun or tossing a hand-grenade.

Disrespect Of Law

By James Marlow

Sit-Ins Undermine Attitudes Toward Justice

WASHINGTON

In the climate of the mind the hot sun of example can dry up the springs of orderly conduct.

Psychiatrists in Los Angeles had explanations for the Negro riots there: hate, frustration, poverty, resentment, hopelessness, heat, humidity. All were probably factors, and may in part explain the rioting in Chicago.

In Los Angeles the trouble began after a white policeman arrested a Negro he suspected of drunken driving; in Chicago after a Negro woman was killed by the swerving end of an undermanned fire engine.

In both places criminals may have begun the trouble by using those episodes as an excuse to hit back at the law since police are their natural enemies and they have no sense of the responsibility of citizenship.

Once violence began it may have opened the door for the stored-up frustrations of others who would not ordinarily defy the police but then, in Los Angeles at least, became criminals themselves with burning and looting.

BUT WHY DID the defiance of law break out on such a massive scale? The repeated examples of defiance which they have seen and read about in recent years may have been a force influencing their actions.

Over those years there has been increasing defiance or testing of the orderly process, not only through massive demonstrations of sit-ins and lie-downs, but even by some Southern state governments against the federal government and the Supreme Court.

Both the demonstrators and the state governments decided for themselves whether a law or a court order was just or unjust. No doubt such defiances in the minds of many people in this country had the effect of downgrading respect for law.

Perhaps more often than not it has not been the ignorant or downtrodden who did the demonstrating and, defying police orders to move on, sat down or fell limp, waiting to be carried off to jail.

In the past week young demonstrators against the war in Viet Nam were arrested here on the Capitol grounds and blocking the entrance to the White House.

LAST MONDAY the president of the American Bar Association Lewis F.. Powell of Richmond, Va., was applauded by 3,000 lawyers at the ABA convention in Miami when he suggested some sit-in demonstrations could create disrespect for law.

"An orderly society," he said, "cannot exist if every man may determine which laws he will obey, and if techniques of coercion supplant due process.

"The court and legislative halls, rather than the streets, must be the place where differences are reconciled and individual rights ultimately protected."

He also criticized the "criminal conduct of the small and defiant minority in the South which still uses violence and intimidation to frustrate the legal rights of Negro citizens."

President Johnson Sunday, condemning the violence in Los Angeles but at the same time saying "we must also strike at the unjust conditions from which disorder largely flows," issued this statement:

"There is no greater wrong in our democracy than violent, willful disregard of law. If men live decently it is because obedience to legal process saved their lives and enabled them to enlarge those lives."

A Problem For All

By Raymond Moley

More than a month ago I wrote a piece pointing to the deplorable effect of the termination by our government of the bracero program, by which Mexican nationals were permitted to come north to help harvest certain crops.

In response to that piece and to a magazine article on the same subject, I received a considerable number of letters. About two-thirds of these supported my point of view; others opposed it.

My information at that time was what I learned in a visit of three weeks to various cities in Southern California. The letters since then from responsible people in California, Arizona and Texas fully confirm my original conclusions.

I HAD NOT realized, however, how far east the impact of the termination of the program was felt. One of the most interesting letters came from a gentleman who operates a processing plant in Michigan. I submit this man's comment without identifying him:

Three years ago, after 20 years in the pickle business, I put every penny I had saved and could borrow into a small company of my own. As all businessmen known it takes a few years to get on your feet and show a few dollars profit.

"This year we are forced to use domestic workers to harvest our crops. When informed of this, our prospective growers for 1965 just shook their heads and refused to grow pickles. At planting time our acreage had dropped 66 per cent.

"As net profit on pickles is very low, I am going to have to lay off all my help for all but eight weeks out of the year. I wonder if Mr. Wirtz (secretary of labor) considers this helping our economy? I know of several large packing companies in Michigan who will have to reduce employment to a minimum this year, as apparently the bracero program will be nonexistent in 1965.

"LAST SATURDAY we received a large crew of men from the Appalachin 'poverty area.' Within nine hours, after being given cash advances, transportation to their housing and assurance of work, 30 per cent were on a bus to Detroit and Chicago. As we paid their transportation from their homes to Michigan and advanced them money, they had nothing to lose. They did have a vacation at our expense.

"The government has required us to travel into many states to interview 'young adults.' At Pensacola, Fla., I interviewed 93 and ended up with four. I hope that Mr. Wirtz has a job for me some place under the 'Anti-Poverty Program,' as I will certainly need it."

Another letter of particular interest, from a foreign correspondent for an American magazine, presents the case from the Mexican side:

"In addition to the points you make, there is another worth attention: Braceros come mainly from the impoverished northern areas of Mexico, where the Communists are working hard to capitalize on the desperate poverty of the people. To chop these poor people off a source of income they had come to rely on seems likely to make the work of the Communist agitators still easier.

"THERE HAS BEEN an enormous expansion of acreage planted to tomatoes for the U.S. market, but most of that expansion is farther south in Mexico. In other words, the peons who earned money as braceros are not earning it as growers.

"Mr. Wirtz's efforts to help pay off political debts to the U.S. labor unions may result in moving a major part of the production over the border altogether. We have exported millions of factory jobs in that way; now the government seems to be sponsoring a drive to do the same thing with agricultural employment."

In terminating the bracero program, the government, largely because of the influence of Secretary Wirtz who seems in turn to have been influenced by the AFL-CIO, has touched a nerve center among consumers everywhere.

But the real impact, I'm certain, has not yet been felt. For certain crops, notably the tomato harvest, ripen in September, and the prices of canned products will during the entire fall and winter reflect the difficulties faced by growers when their help from Mexican labor is denied them.

My conclusion is that this is not a matter which involves the growers alone. Every housewife has an interest which may well make itself felt for months to come.

The Coast Guard, which traces its history back to 1790, is the United States' "oldest continuous sea - going service."

Running Dispute For Congress

The running battle between the Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) and the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) over who has title to and jurisdiction over hordes of American boys running around in their underwear would seem scarcely worth the attention of an august Senate committee.

On the contrary, the power struggle, as it — rather grandly — has been assessed, already has taken up the time, to little avail, of the late President Kennedy and Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

It concerns primarily the sponsorship of "open" track meets in which both college and other athletes compete, as opposed to "closed" meets restricted to college athletes.

THE AAU for years has certified to the International Olympic Committee the athletes to represent the United States. This was logical in the days when the typical track and field athlete was developed in competition among athletic clubs.

But many years ago colleges began sending their stars into international competition. The rivalry between the coaches — the men behind the NCAA — and the AAU dates back at least to 1928, when Gen. MacArthur was president of the American Olympic Committee.

Three years ago the NCAA established three federations to control track and field, basketball, and gymnastics. The U.S. Track and Field Federation now claims to represent more than 20,000 high schools, colleges and junior colleges, and track and field clubs.

An understanding, in part through the offices of Bobby Kennedy, then attorney general, appeared to be reached in November 1962. The two groups were to forget their differences long enough to permit American athletes to compete in international meets.

However, as President Kennedy subsequently pointed out, "even that coalition (had) been tangled by a whole group of conflicting interpretations." So the President asked Gen. MacArthur to settle the differences.

A compromise appeared to be worked out in January 1963. But after the 1964 Olympics the manpower disputes broke out again.

Most recently, the NCAA attempted to dissuade college athletes to stay out of an AAU meet in San Diego that would influence the selection of the team to contest the Soviet Union at Kiev. Despite wholesale defections, the NCAA boycott was reasonably effective.

And, for the first time since 1958, the U.S. team was beaten by the Russians in the dual meet.

WHAT THE U.S. SENATE can do to resolve the quarrel is questionable. Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., a former champion hurdler, has admitted some doubts but expressed confidence that "if Congress acts and expresses itself in this field it can be effective."

Hearings this week by the Senate Commerce Committee will tell. Right now it looks as if the coaches under the aegis of the NCAA have the troops and the AAU has the mandate.

Too Many Reds, Complain

In the last four years party membership has grown by more than two million people. In the last year, 880,000 new members were enrolled, bringing the membership to more than 12 million.

But the party leaders feel that the party is taking on too many members who just want a free ride at the party's expense.

The proportion of workers, peasants and intellectuals is getting out of balance. The Pravda editorial implies that the party is taking on too many intellectuals and not enough workers or peasants.

Also it's accepting too many people who are not fully dedicated to communism as a way of life.

"Not quantity but quality is necessary," the editorial said and complained that the party branch in Kjarkov, an industrial city in the Ukraine, had been swelling its ranks by accepting everyone who applied without checking his "political, business and moral qualifications."

The Pravda complaint shatters the propaganda pitch that long has been drilled into our heads that all good Russians had come to the aid of their party and not just a miserly 5 per cent plus out of a population of roughly 226 million. million.

The Rogers Legend

By Harold Heffernan

HOLLYWOOD

The great American humorist, philosopher, political pundit and actor who liked to downgrade himself with the drawling "I don't know nuthin'—only what I read in the newspapers," met tragic death 30 years ago in the wastes of northern Alaska—but Hollywood and a great portion of the world at large still treasures him as a living legend whom time can never submerge.

Will Rogers, who died at 55 with his pilot-pal Wiley Post at the outset of an adventurous excursion into uncharted wilds, had no imitators, no rivals in his specialized field.

Starting out as a roping cowboy with a hang-dog expression and a mumbling Oklahoma twang, he sputtered out witticisms and observations that sent the nation and its pompous politicians into a tizzy of fun, fright and sometimes panic.

WILL ROGERS eventually became one of the greatest figures in the theater, in the newspapers and on the radio. And had his life been spared another decade, he doubtless would have become Mr. Television.

Among other amazing feats marking the crowded life of this hero from the hill country, he almost won a nomination for president of the United States on the Democratic ticket.

That astonishing tribute occurred during the national convention of 1924. The party was deadlocked on a candidate choice when suddenly the delegation from Oklahoma began a move that quickly developed into a near - stampede. But with typical Rogers deflationary measures, he deftly pulled himself out of contention and restored order.

In the strict sense of the word, Will Rogers was never an actor but he brought more dignity, respect and renown to the profession than had the combined efforts of the most celebrated thespians of this or any other time.

Not one in the Rogers family had ever been in show business, though his great-great-grandfather, Gen. Sam Houston, a hero of the Alamo, president of the Republic of Texas and subsequently a U.S. senator from that state, was one of the great orators of his day and also a man with a shrewd sense of drama.

The direct antithesis of his famous forbear, Will Rogers was self - effacing and shy — and he smartly parlayed those "faults" into fame and fortune.

Rogers was a native of Oklahoman who probably would have ended his days as an inconspicuous cowpoke had he applied for a job at any other than the Miller Brothers' 101 Ranch. The Miller boys not only operated an expensive and prosperous spread, they were also the entreprdeneurs of a traveling wild west show, which competed with the Buffalo Bill and Pawnee Bill outfits of that day.

From that modest beginning, Rogers soon was hitting the small time vaudeville houses and eventually the big time through an engagement at the Hammerstein Roof Garden in New York. It was only a step from there to a star spot in Flo Ziegfeld's famous follies.

Midway in his struggles, Rogers had turned his flop act into a hit by interspersing humorous topical comment into his really adept rope-swinging.

When the Ziegfeld Follies toured the big cities of the nation, audiences were astonished — and local bigwigs frightened —when Rogers would begin taking people and local conditions apart with biting humor and an apparent full knowledge of what was going on in town. Actually, he enlisted newspaper drama critics in each city to fill him in by mail well in advance of the run.

Once he was secure as a headliner, Will Rogers married a girl from back home. Mary Rogers had no theatrical ambitions, but she adored Will and her comforting presence, her patience and willingness to remain in the background profoundly influenced his life. She gave him two children, Will Jr. and Mary, and made a home for him to which he eagerly returned.

The average American has a very poor record as a book reader, compared with certain other nations of the world. In England, for example, the proportion of adults who are book readers is three times as high as in the U.S. The average U.S. library registers only about 25 per cent of the adult population in its area and of these, only about 10 per cent are regular customers.

Some varieties of plants and flowers are capable of producing huge numbers of seeds. Orchid flowers, for example, produce fruits that contain from 200,000 to a million seeds. One pod of the orchid Maxillaria contains 1,750,000 seeds that are as tiny as grains of dust.

The largest public library in the world is that of New York City, which contains 6,950,000 volumes, nine million manuscripts, four million pictures, 100,000 prints and 400,000 maps on 60 miles of shelves.

The distinction of being the largest member of the insect world probably belongs to a Brazilian member of the long-horned wood - boring beetle family. This beetle, "Macrodontia Cervicornis," grows as long as seven inches.

Australians, situated on a continent under the overhang of Asia, are a paradox of history. Culturally they are wholly Western, but they exist in what is geographically "The East."

More than 150,000 new and different words and brand names have been added to the American language by manufacturers through their newspaper, radio and television commercial advertising.

Nationalist Chinese A Threat To Mao

By Jeff Endrst

TAIPEI

When the late John Foster Dulles used to threaten to "unleash" the Chiang Kai-shek troops against Communist China in the late 'fifties, much of the world laughed, although it considered the possibility a "bad joke."

Today, it is a militarily accepted fact that the Nationalist troops on Taiwan and the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu represent a "cork in Mao's throat."

The remaining argument centers around the question as to how much of a dent the Nationalists could make in Peking's armor, how long they could carry the battle on the mainland without American ground support and, above all, whether they could live up to their high advance billing when the chips in Asia are really down.

THERE ARE no simple and conclusive answers. But a concentrated look at Taiwan's 1965 modern armed forces offers some very comforting reassurances.

The basic element in Nationalist military readiness is the people's eagerness to regain possession of the mainland by fighting for it when conditions in Asia are favorable, and China itself is "ripe."

As far as the Nationalists are concerned, both conditions are rapidly approaching the starting line for action. While others may not fully agree, they freely or grudgingly accept the claim that about half of Peking's 3,000,000 standing army is tied up in the South China Sea area because of the constant "invasion" threat from Taiwan.

Many Allied strategists sincerely believe that Communist China has not openly entered the Viet Nam war in fear of an American - backed Chiang Kai-shek countermove on the mainland.

In order to come to a reasonable assessment of Taiwan's military strength today, one must discard some old political notions. They paint the Nationalists as a bunch of aging and bankrupt social outcasts with fascist inclinations who brood over mainland recovery in a political vacuum.

ONE MUST note that since the tired and disillusioned Chiang Kai-shek troops took refuge on Taiwan in 1948, the United States has pumped $2.5 billion in military assistance to help train millions of men into a modern, precision military machine whose weapons rival anything the Communists have, with the exception of the atomic bomb which Peking could not now deliver but the United States could.

Although the U.S. discontinued its economic assistance to Taiwan last month, its military aid continues unabated. Equipment and training of the Nationalist troops is geared to military potential and strategy of the Communists.

The bulk of the 600,000 army, navy, air force and special forces units is under 20 years of age. The average age, counting non - commissioned officers and the entire brass, is 24 years of age, which is one of the lowest in the world. The literacy of the Nationalist armed forces is exceptional, for an Asian or any other army — almost 100 per cent.

Each year, some 200,000 new recruits get a two - year compulsory training (three years in the air force and in the navy). Another half a million men are in active military reserve, undergoing frequent training with new weapons and updated military strategy. During general mobilization, Taiwan could muster another million men with solid military training behind them.

THE ARMY has a standing, highly mobile force of 400,000 men of whom about 100,000 live a perpetual underground existance barely 1½ miles off the China mainlands, on Quemoy and Matsu islands. They have American - supplied medium-size tanks, and Nike-Hercules missiles.

The air force counts some 80,000 men, including several thousand highly trained pilots who are currently phasing out the F104G fighters (comparable or better than the MIG-19), replacing them with the F5A, the supersonic jet answer to the Communist MIG-21.

It is believed that the Nationcraft under their own command. In addition, the Taiwan straights are guarded by a sizeable number of American jets stationed on the Pescadore Islands between Taiwan and the mainland.

It is no secret any more than the Nationalists operate a small force of high - flying U-2's whose Chinese pilots have reportedly contributed to Washington's advance knowledge of Peking's atomic developments.

These pilots have instructions to destroy their planes, equipment and themselves in the event of emergency. The Taipei government claims that these instructions have been obeyed.

The Nationalist navy and marine corps count another 80,000 men. Their main function is to complement the duties of the U.S. 7th Fleet. The two navies are pretty much integrated, with the Nationalists concentrating mainly on combat escort, anti-submarine and anti-mine warfare and amphibious operations.

Officials of the War Region Services Team plan the strategy of the army's advance columns, entrusted to highly trained dialect specialists trained in military sabotage as well as in political reconstruction of the mainland.

A sizable U.S. military mission on Taiwan accounts for some of these accomplishments. Hundreds of Chinese specialists come to the United States for advance military studies and training. But the bulk of Taiwan's military effort and accomplishment is strictly a local product.

Even the Chinese women on Taiwan have been mobilized. Over one million women of all ages have gone through training — from mending soldiers' sock to manning a sub-machine gun or tossing a hand-grenade.

Disrespect Of Law

By James Marlow

Sit-Ins Undermine Attitudes Toward Justice

WASHINGTON

In the climate of the mind the hot sun of example can dry up the springs of orderly conduct.

Psychiatrists in Los Angeles had explanations for the Negro riots there: hate, frustration, poverty, resentment, hopelessness, heat, humidity. All were probably factors, and may in part explain the rioting in Chicago.

In Los Angeles the trouble began after a white policeman arrested a Negro he suspected of drunken driving; in Chicago after a Negro woman was killed by the swerving end of an undermanned fire engine.

In both places criminals may have begun the trouble by using those episodes as an excuse to hit back at the law since police are their natural enemies and they have no sense of the responsibility of citizenship.

Once violence began it may have opened the door for the stored-up frustrations of others who would not ordinarily defy the police but then, in Los Angeles at least, became criminals themselves with burning and looting.

BUT WHY DID the defiance of law break out on such a massive scale? The repeated examples of defiance which they have seen and read about in recent years may have been a force influencing their actions.

Over those years there has been increasing defiance or testing of the orderly process, not only through massive demonstrations of sit-ins and lie-downs, but even by some Southern state governments against the federal government and the Supreme Court.

Both the demonstrators and the state governments decided for themselves whether a law or a court order was just or unjust. No doubt such defiances in the minds of many people in this country had the effect of downgrading respect for law.

Perhaps more often than not it has not been the ignorant or downtrodden who did the demonstrating and, defying police orders to move on, sat down or fell limp, waiting to be carried off to jail.

In the past week young demonstrators against the war in Viet Nam were arrested here on the Capitol grounds and blocking the entrance to the White House.

LAST MONDAY the president of the American Bar Association Lewis F.. Powell of Richmond, Va., was applauded by 3,000 lawyers at the ABA convention in Miami when he suggested some sit-in demonstrations could create disrespect for law.

"An orderly society," he said, "cannot exist if every man may determine which laws he will obey, and if techniques of coercion supplant due process.

"The court and legislative halls, rather than the streets, must be the place where differences are reconciled and individual rights ultimately protected."

He also criticized the "criminal conduct of the small and defiant minority in the South which still uses violence and intimidation to frustrate the legal rights of Negro citizens."

President Johnson Sunday, condemning the violence in Los Angeles but at the same time saying "we must also strike at the unjust conditions from which disorder largely flows," issued this statement:

"There is no greater wrong in our democracy than violent, willful disregard of law. If men live decently it is because obedience to legal process saved their lives and enabled them to enlarge those lives."

Riots

nia 40th and 49th National Guard Armored Divisions began to tip the scales Saturday night after Lt. Gov. Glenn Anderson, acting in the absence of Gov. Edmund G. Brown, declared a state of insurrection.

Brown cut short his European vacation, returned here, and Sunday toured a Watts area subdued by more than 14,000 guardsmen and 1,000 police—but still ringing with bursts of sniper fire.

Early today the statistics told results of six days' rioting:

Killed 31.

Injured 809.

Arrested 2,760.

In every Southern California community with big Negro populations tension mounted, crowds gathered, and police added extra crews.

The terror in the streets caused a rush among white citizens to arm themselves. Homeowners with guns watched through the night in countless homes.

Among the acts of violence:

—A 47-year-old Negro woman's legs were "almost cut off" Sunday by a burst of 20 rounds from a National Guard machine gun at a Watts roadblock. Guardsmen said she refused to halt. Police said her car held a dozen homemade fire bombs.

—A two-story apartment building in a white section in the harbor district was set afire Sunday night by a gasoline bomb. Police and firemen controlled it.

—A hidden gunman fired at cars on the Golden State Freeway Sunday night in Los Angeles. When police got there he was gone.

"We know some of the terrorists are sneaking out of the Watts area," said a high police official. "We stopped cars of men heading toward white sections from Watts with loads of gasoline bombs."

Whole blocks of businesses were looted and burned by pillaging mobs—among them many drug stores and markets. Most of those which remained undamaged were closed.

An 8 p.m.-to-dawn curfew kept residents from seeking food and drugs elsewhere.

Gov. Brown announced Sunday night:

"There is a serious shortage of food in some neighborhoods in the riot areas. It is important to re-establish normal business and public service in South Los Angeles."

Word that troops had helped Los Angeles law officers regain possession of the riot center brought an expression of relief Sunday from President Johnson.

At Miami, Fla., Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. said he planned to travel to Los Angeles "in the next few days" at the request of Negro leaders in the area.

The Nobel prize-winning civil rights leader said he would visit Watts, once order was restored, to deal with the underlying social problems.

What caused the riots?

—Los Angeles Chief of Police William Parker said civil rights demonstrations had conditioned Negroes to be ready for violent action.

—Bernice Ennis, assistant professor of clinical psychiatry at the University of Southern California, partially blamed a week-long heat wave: "The excessive heat acts as a stimulant and stress on already quite strained individuals."

—Psychologist James R. Silber blamed economic disadvantages and conditions in an area which is 98 per cent Negro: "The ghetto contributes to a sense of isolation, loneliness, differentness and separateness —working together to create resentfulness."

Long Beach Police, aided by Los Angeles officers and National Guard units, curbed lawlessness at the city's Negro section and said control was complete there.

They said the officer killed by gunfire may have been hit by a discharge fired as another officer struggled with an armed Negro.

The San Diego riot was also brought under control.

Negro newsmen who mingled with the mob—on streets where white men were beaten mercilessly—noted a surprising aspect: the Negroes rioted with jubilation. Their excited battlecry: "Burn, baby, burn!"

Many of the homes destroyed in the more than 2,000 major fires, however, were those of Negroes. A white fireman, Battalion Chief Ken Long, 40, said he and his men were driven away by sniper fire as they sought to save a home.

Said Long :"This is my district. These were all professional firemen. We knew we could beat this fire if we had the chance. We had to pull off. The people whose house was burning just stood there looking at us. When we got back all there was to do was wet the ashes."

The Los Angeles Fire Department said fire damaged totaled more than $175 million.

Space Scientist Withdraws From Case Tech Post

CLEVELAND (AP)—Dr. Raymond L. Bisplinghoff of Washington, a noted space scientist, has withdrawn his acceptance of the presidency of Case Institute of Technology.

The school's board of trustees said today that Dr. Bisplinghoff had found it necessary to withdraw his acceptance of the post to which he was appointed June 24 because of "compelling personal reasons." He did not elaborate.

Dr. Bisplinghoff was named the fifth president of Case Tech to succeed Dr. T. Keith Glennan, effective Sept. 1. He was associate administrator of the office of advanced research and technology for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The trustees said Dr. Glennan will continue to serve as president of Case, a position he has held since 1947, while also assuming the presidency of Associated Universities, Inc., in New York on Oct. 1.

It was explained that Dr. Glennan would divide his time between the two posts and that Dr. John A. Hrones, provost, would act as president of Case when Dr. Glennan is away from Cleveland.

Riots

nia 40th and 49th National Guard Armored Divisions began to tip the scales Saturday night after Lt. Gov. Glenn Anderson, acting in the absence of Gov. Edmund G. Brown, declared a state of insurrection.

Brown cut short his European vacation, returned here, and Sunday toured a Watts area subdued by more than 14,000 guardsmen and 1,000 police—but still ringing with bursts of sniper fire.

Early today the statistics told results of six days' rioting:

Killed 31.

Injured 809.

Arrested 2,760.

In every Southern California community with big Negro populations tension mounted, crowds gathered, and police added extra crews.

The terror in the streets caused a rush among white citizens to arm themselves. Homeowners with guns watched through the night in countless homes.

Among the acts of violence:

—A 47-year-old Negro woman's legs were "almost cut off" Sunday by a burst of 20 rounds from a National Guard machine gun at a Watts roadblock. Guardsmen said she refused to halt. Police said her car held a dozen homemade fire bombs.

—A two-story apartment building in a white section in the harbor district was set afire Sunday night by a gasoline bomb. Police and firemen controlled it.

—A hidden gunman fired at cars on the Golden State Freeway Sunday night in Los Angeles. When police got there he was gone.

"We know some of the terrorists are sneaking out of the Watts area," said a high police official. "We stopped cars of men heading toward white sections from Watts with loads of gasoline bombs."

Whole blocks of businesses were looted and burned by pillaging mobs—among them many drug stores and markets. Most of those which remained undamaged were closed.

An 8 p.m.-to-dawn curfew kept residents from seeking food and drugs elsewhere.

Gov. Brown announced Sunday night:

"There is a serious shortage of food in some neighborhoods in the riot areas. It is important to re-establish normal business and public service in South Los Angeles."

Word that troops had helped Los Angeles law officers regain possession of the riot center brought an expression of relief Sunday from President Johnson.

At Miami, Fla., Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. said he planned to travel to Los Angeles "in the next few days" at the request of Negro leaders in the area.

The Nobel prize-winning civil rights leader said he would visit Watts, once order was restored, to deal with the underlying social problems.

What caused the riots?

—Los Angeles Chief of Police William Parker said civil rights demonstrations had conditioned Negroes to be ready for violent action.

—Bernice Ennis, assistant professor of clinical psychiatry at the University of Southern California, partially blamed a week-long heat wave: "The excessive heat acts as a stimulant and stress on already quite strained individuals."

—Psychologist James R. Silber blamed economic disadvantages and conditions in an area which is 98 per cent Negro: "The ghetto contributes to a sense of isolation, loneliness, differentness and separateness —working together to create resentfulness."

Long Beach Police, aided by Los Angeles officers and National Guard units, curbed lawlessness at the city's Negro section and said control was complete there.

They said the officer killed by gunfire may have been hit by a discharge fired as another officer struggled with an armed Negro.

The San Diego riot was also brought under control.

Negro newsmen who mingled with the mob—on streets where white men were beaten mercilessly—noted a surprising aspect: the Negroes rioted with jubilation. Their excited battle-cry: "Burn, baby, burn!"

Many of the homes destroyed in the more than 2,000 major fires, however, were those of Negroes. A white fireman, Battalion Chief Ken Long, 40, said he and his men were driven away by sniper fire as they sought to save a home.

Said Long: "This is my district. These were all professional firemen. We knew we could beat this fire if we had the chance. We had to pull off. The people whose house was burning just stood there looking at us. When we got back all there was to do was wet the ashes."

The Los Angeles Fire Department said fire damaged totaled more than $175 million.

Additional millions were lost in looting.

An insurance executive said most policies contained a clause exempting from coverage damage resulting from insurrection — which is what state officials termed the Los Angeles riots.

Officers cited Robert Blanc, 25, of Minerva on the two charges after his 1964 coupe struck the oncoming 1959 sedan of Frank Verzella, 34, of 551 Main St., Wellsville, about 2:40 a. m. yesterday a half mile west of Hanoverton.

Maurice Glover, 5, a passenger in Glover's car, suffered a forehead injury, and Charles Brammer, 31, of Akron, a passenger in Rice's car, received a bruised arm.

The Fight Against Cancer
Not until the mid-1940's was there any evidence that drugs could be useful in treating cancer. Now, less than two decades later, over 20 drugs have been developed to combat this disease. Although none of the drugs are "cures," they can temporarily stop the growth of certain cancers and relieve pain. Continuing research indicates we may have some cures within the next two decades.

The bride was Miss Rose Lorraine Hodge. Her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. George W. Ruhl, 1627 Pennsylvania Ave.

Baskets of pastel color gladioli fernery and cathedral candelabra formed the improvised altar before the fireplace. Stanley Hodge and Michael Iseminger, nephews of the bride, served as acolytes. The music was provided by Miss Melanie Hodge and Thomas Rogero.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Douglas Hodge, wore a gown of champagne beige Chantilly lace over satin. The overblouse was finished with hand-rolled scallops at the neckline and featured bracelet length sleeves.

Her bouffant veil of matching silk organza was attached to a lotus headpiece. She wore a jade and gold pendant and earrings, gifts of the bridegroom, and carried a bouquet of pink sweetheart roses.

Mrs. M. R. Iseminger, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and wore a sleeveless coral chiffon over taffeta dress accented with a self - bow at the waistline of the full skirt. Her headpiece was a circlet of coral sequins and seed pearls holding a theater veil. She carried a bouquet of coral roses.

The bride's mother chose a turquoise crepe dress with matching accessories and carnation corsage tinted deep turquoise. Miss Agnes Shadduck of Crescent City, former local resident, stood in for the bridegroom's mother, who was unable to attend. She was attired in a rose and white print dress with matching accessories and rose carnation corsage.

A reception followed in the Florida room, where the buffet table was covered with a white, embroidered linen cloth and held a crystal punch bowl and arrangement of carnations and gladioli in shades of pink, touched with fernery. The four-tier cake, topped with a handmade decoration, was placed on a table covered with a yellow cloth overlaid with a white drawnwork linen cloth. An arrangement of yellow and white mums and fern along with yellow tapers completed the setting.

For traveling, the bride wore a three - piece ensemble of grey cotton with white fishnet ruffles at the throat and wrists. She used white accessories and wore a diamond sunburst pin, the gift of her grandmother, Mrs. Stanley Hodge.

The Fight Against Cancer
Not until the mid-1940's was there any evidence that drugs could be useful in treating cancer. Now, less than two decades later, over 20 drugs have been developed to combat this disease. Although none of the drugs are "cures," they can temporarily stop the growth of certain cancers and relieve pain. Continuing research indicates we may have some cures within the next two decades.

Russian Ballet Faces Concert Cancellation

LONDON (AP) — A benefit performance by the Bolshoi Ballet to aid the Bertrand Russell Peace Foundation may be canceled because of objections from the Foreign Office.

Authoritative sources said the British government feels that it would not be proper for Soviet artists to appear in support of a movement involved in political controversies.

The foundation was formed to further the ideas of the 93-year-old philosopher, a champion of nuclear disarmament and a leading opponent of most American foreign policies.

Palestine Pool Sets New Record In Heat

EAST PALESTINE — Sunday's hot weather helped boost attendance at the City Park pool to a record high of 1,857, Baird Stewart, park director, said.

The previous high was 1,723 set in 1952, according to Stewart.

Beatles Play, But Screams Foil Efforts

NEW YORK (AP)—The Beatles stood on second base, and for some 55,000 excited fans in Shea Stadium Sunday night it was better than the World Series, the All-Star game and 50 grand slam homers rolled into one.

The crowd—mostly girls, average age 15 to 16, and a sprinkling of boys and parents — couldn't hear much, despite 29 loudspeakers facing the horseshoe-shaped stands. Most people, way up in the three baiconies, couldn't see much either.

But many had a good raving cry—individual outbursts ranging from ordinary weeping and screaming to howling and hysteria with jumping up and down.

A Look At Back Of Moon

MOSCOW (AP)—The new Soviet photos of the back of the moon show it has fewer seas and is more mountainous than the visible lunar surface, a Soviet scientist reported today.

The part the earth can't see has numerous chains of minor craters extending for hundreds of kilometers, a feature not found on the side facing the earth, wrote Dr. Yuri Lipsky of the Shternberg Astronomical Institute in Moscow.

The probe passed the moon at a distance narrowing from 11,000 kilometers (7,028 miles) to less than 10,000 kilometers (6,213 miles).

The pictures were transmitted back to earth beginning July 29, as the probe sped on into an orbit around the sun. Each transmission took 34 minutes, Lipsky said. The total number of pictures received has not been disclosed.

Lipsky wrote that the new pictures confirmed indications of the first pictures of the back of the moon, taken by a Soviet satellite in October 1959, that the two sides of the moon differ.

More Picketing Expected At Pool In West Virginia

SOUTH CHARLESTON (AP) — Sporadic picketing is expected to continue at nearby Rock Lake Swimming Pool, which was the scene of a two-hour civil rights demonstration Sunday.

No violence was reported as about 300 Negro and white persons protested the pool's white-only policy.

The demonstration by a coalition of Charleston area Negro groups was led by the Rev. C. T. Vivian, director of affiliates for the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

The rally took place under a court order restraining both sides in the pool dispute.

The demonstrations gathered in a local parking lot and walked to a church property near the pool where they heard a brief speech by the Rev. Mr. Vivian.

They then marched to the pool and were barred from entering by pool lifeguards.

The Rev. Mr. Vivian told the rally participants "there is no basic difference in Alabama and Mississippi than what you are suffering here in West Virginia."

Sunday's protest marked two weeks of picketing at the segregated facility. Joe Wilan, owner of the pool, has said he will not admit Negroes for fear of losing business.

Escapees May Learn Effect Of Advertising

SIOUX FALLS, S.D. (AP) — Three young men fled the South Dakota Penitentiary farm at nearby Ellis Sunday, Warden Don Erickson said.

Also missing, he said, was a fire red pickup truck bearing white shields on its sides emblazoned South Dakota Penitentiary, Unit 6.

Rhodes Signs Schools' Bill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes today signed the record $633 million school foundation bill passed last week by the 106th Ohio General Assembly.

The bill, retroactive to July 1, provides $108 million more for puplic schools in the current biennium (ending June 30, 1967) than in the last biennium.

It provides $200-a-year pay raises for public school teachers.

However, several state education groups have called for even more state money for schools.

The governor said in a statement, "this represents a huge step forward in our drive to be number one in all fields of education. This bill provides a record $137.31 for each pupil—up from $119.65 in 1964-65 and from $116.33 in 1962-63."

He added, "I highly commend all those who worked so hard to bring this important legislation into being," and singled out Finance Director Richard Krabach and House Speaker Roger Cloud, R-Logan, for special praise.

Strange Blast Claims Man At Driving Range

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Authorities today were still investigating the cause of a mysterious Saturday night explosion that left an unidentified man dead.

The blast, followed by a fire, leveled a 12 x 16 foot snack bar and office at a golfing driving range near here. The charred body of a man was found in the debris.

Plane's Crash Hurts Pilot At St. Clairsville

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio (AP) —James Michaels, 26, of Wheeling, W. Va., was listed in critical condition in a Wheeling hospital Sunday night as a result of a plane crash.

Michaels, piloting a Piper trainer Sunday, was practicing takeoffs and landings at Alderman Airport here when his plane crashed on the east end of the runway. The craft was demolished.

U.S. Conciliators Bid For Civil Rights Peace

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—The streets of this western Massachusetts city were quiet today as federal conciliators tried to repair a community rift widened over the weekend by the arrest of 67 civil rights demonstrators.

Harold T. Hunton and James D. Norton of the Community Relations Service met with the city's Human Relations Commission Sunday night. The details of the closed session were not disclosed.

The conciliators described their visit as a fact-finding mission and said they will meet with Mayor Charles V. Ryan and other officials.

At issue are charges of brutality brought by civil rights leaders' in July against seven police officers. The leaders say the City Police Commission has been slow to take up the cases.

Demonstrations were renewed Friday and 23 persons were arrested on the steps of City Hall after being informed they could stay on municipal property only during office hours.

Violence threatened to erupt the same night after two stores in a Negro neighborhood were set afire with homemade bombs. A soaking rain prevented a crowd from gathering.

Forty-four persons were arrested Sunday, most of them after 200 persons paraded from a park in the Negro section 1½ miles to Court Square downtown.

On orders from the park superintendent, 100 helmeted policemen surrounded the square and carried off the limp demonstrators.

Ruling Seen Tuesday

LISBON — A ruling on a mandamus action filed by the Fairmont Foods Co. of Parkersburg, W. Va., against the East Liverpool Board of Health over the board's refusal to grant a milk permit to the firm is expected Tuesday afternoon. Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard heard closing arguments in the case Friday.

BEATTYVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Donally Cole can't play a musical instrument. He can't even tune one.

Cole, a 50-year-old locktender at nearby Heidelberg, is right handy, though, as a craftsman. Using hand tools and woods native to the Kentucky mountains, he's turned out a guitar, banjo, violin and started on a ukelele.

His hobby has one drawback. Every time he completes an instrument, he has to track down somebody to try it out.

A Look At Back Of Moon

MOSCOW (AP)—The new Soviet photos of the back of the moon show it has fewer seas and is more mountainous than the visible lunar surface, a Soviet scientist reported today.

The part the earth can't see has numerous chains of minor craters extending for hundreds of kilometers, a feature not found on the side facing the earth, wrote Dr. Yuri Lipsky of the Shternberg Astronomical Institute in Moscow.

The probe passed the moon at a distance narrowing from 11,000 kilometers (7,028 miles) to less than 10,000 kilometers (6,213 miles).

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Ours is an unusual problem. We hope you can help us. We will change the names, but I don't think we will fool anyone in our town.

Our daughter is going with a nice young man. He works for a relative who is a funeral director. When Delbert comes to call on our daughter he sometimes drives over in the hearse.

My husband and I do not like the looks of the hearse in front of the house. It creates a lot of talk among the neighbors and sometimes strangers who are passing by just stand around and look. My husband and I would be so much happier if Delbert would walk over to our place or take a bus.

We have mentioned the problem to our daughter but she is afraid Delbert will be offended if we talk to him. She says the hearse is part of his job and he is not ashamed of it.

What is your opinion?—MR. AND MRS.

Dear M and M: Since Delbert considers the hearse part of his job and he is not ashamed of it, fine. Tell him to park it in fromt of his house. You folks certainly have a right to ask the young man to use more conventional transportation and I hope you will.

Preacher's Aid

Dear Ann: I'm a 16-year-old boy who has a big problem. Please don't tell me to speak to my clergyman. He is my father—and part of the problem.

I enjoy fun like all other teenagers. My grades are good and I have never been in trouble. Last week there was a street dance. We live in a medium-size town in Texas and street dances are the fad right now. I went downtown and got in on the fun. There was no rowdiness or liquor or anything like that, just a lot of kids having a good time.

This morning a committee of three ministers came to our house. They asked my dad if he knew I was at the street dance last night. Dad said "yes." Then they asked him to join their committee to stop the dances. He refused.

I would rather die than embarrass my dad. Will you please advise me if I should quit going to these dances for his sake. He works hard at being a good minister and I don't want to hurt him in any way. Please send your advice fast. —P.K.

Dear P.K.: You sound like a fine lad to me. I'm sure your dad must be very proud of you.

Although you say you can't talk to your dad about this, I believe he is the very one you should talk to. Ask him what he wants you to do. If he says the dances meet with his approval, then continue to go—and don't worry about what others say.

Concerned Mother

Dear Ann: Maybe I'm old-fashioned and maybe I am just crazy but I have some strong feelings about morality. Will you please settle something for me.

My son is 28 years of age and has a fine job. He has dated some very lovely girls from outstanding families but somehow fine girls don't appeal to him. He likes the nobodies. Heaven knows where he finds them.

A few weeks ago he met a young woman who recently was divorced. How soon after a woman is divorced is it proper to be seen in public with her?

P.S.: She has a child.—CONCERNED MOTHER WHO WANTS TO KEEP THINGS RESPECTABLE.

Dear Concerned Mother: If the woman is no longer married, two minutes after the divorce is "proper." And the fact that she has a child has nothing whatever to do with it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Controversy Aired

Marines Help South Viet Villagers In Many Ways

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Navy Paul H. Nitze says U.S. Marines dig wells and bake bread for South Vietnamese villagers as well as fight the Communist Viet Cong guerrillas shooting at them from fortified hamlet houses.

In an interview, Nitze answered questions about the 3rd Marine Amphibious Force (MAF) in the foot-by-foot battle to clear Viet Cong out of the jungle, villages and huts in the zone around the air and naval enclave of Da Nang.

A controversy has developed over the destruction of Vietnamese houses in fire fights between Marine units and the Viet Cong.

Some of the hamlets, like Cam Ne where hut-burning came into attention, are places that have been converted into actual fortified towns. Nitze said. They must be cleared of the enemy as control of the enclave is expanded toward perimeters.

Places which are used as bases for Viet Cong attacks on military installations or harassment of loyal South Vietnamese are "cleared routinely" by Marines operating in conjunction with South Vietnamese government representatives.

Then Nitze added: "Where neither U.S. nor Vietnamese forces can maintain continuous occupancy it is necessary to destroy those facilities which have been developed by the Viet Cong for their purposes."

What about the two images of the American Marine — the fierce warrior and the benefactor?

Nitze said he believed that the 3rd Marine Force, commanded by Maj. Gen. Lewis W. Walt, "has been eminentiy successful in its villages pacification program."

The secretary said that during his inspection trip to Viet Nam last month he visited a small village north of Da Nang which Marines had just secured.

"The women and children were happy to see them," Nitze said, "and each Marine seemed like a pied piper with a flock of youngsters following him. It doesn't take long for these Americans to gain the confidence of the local people.

"Most important, the Vietnamese soon gain confidence and regain their self-respect.

"Coincident to this process, the Marines help them to rebuild their village, open their churches and schools and reestablish their own village governments.

"It is perhaps difficult for us to realize, but many of these people have lived under Communist terror in their villages for 10 years and in some instances for 20 years."

Korean Cabinet Quits Over Issue Of Treaty

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — The South Korean cabinet resigned today in the wake of the ratification of the controversial Japan-South Korea amity treaty, but President Chung Hee Park rejected the resignation.

The cabinet resigned so Park could make any changes he felt necessary to cope with the tense political situation.

Widow Operates Parking Lot, Has No Driver Permit

FREDERICK, Md. (AP) — Marion F. Pomeroy has been parking cars for 15 years — without a driver's license.

The silver-haired widow has been the sole attendant at a parking lot here since her husband died eight years ago. Born in Winchester, Va., she came to Frederick as a bride 55 years ago.

"This was the first parking lot in Frederick and we've never had an accident," she said.

Mrs. Pomeroy never has driven a car and has no license, but she doesn't hesitate to help straighten out motorists who do.

"When they park crooked, I just go out and help them park straight," she said.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Ours is an unusual problem. We hope you can help us. We will change the names, but I don't think we will fool anyone in our town.

Our daughter is going with a nice young man. He works for a relative who is a funeral director. When Delbert comes to call on our daughter he sometimes drives over in the hearse.

My husband and I do not like the looks of the hearse in front of the house. It creates a lot of talk among the neighbors and sometimes strangers who are passing by just stand around and look. My husband and I would be so much happier if Delbert would walk over to our place or take a bus.

We have mentioned the problem to our daughter but she is afraid Delbert will be offended if we talk to him. She says the hearse is part of his job and he is not ashamed of it.

What is your opinion?—MR. AND MRS.

Dear M and M: Since Delbert considers the hearse part of his job and he is not ashamed of it, fine. Tell him to park it in fromt of his house. You folks certainly have a right to ask the young man to use more conventional transportation and I hope you will.

Preacher's Aid

Dear Ann: I'm a 16-year-old boy who has a big problem. Please don't tell me to speak to my clergyman. He is my father—and part of the problem.

I enjoy fun like all other teenagers. My grades are good and I have never been in trouble. Last week there was a street dance. We live in a medium-size town in Texas and street dances are the fad right now. I went downtown and got in on the fun. There was no rowdiness or liquor or anything like that, just a lot of kids having a good time.

This morning a committee of three ministers came to our house. They asked my dad if he knew I was at the street dance last night. Dad said "yes." Then they asked him to join their committee to stop the dances. He refused.

I would rather die than embarrass my dad. Will you please advise me if I should quit going to these dances for his sake. He works hard at being a good minister and I don't want to hurt him in any way. Please send your advice fast. —P.K.

Dear P.K.: You sound like a fine lad to me. I'm sure your dad must be very proud of you.

Although you say you can't talk to your dad about this, I believe he is the very one you should talk to. Ask him what he wants you to do. If he says the dances meet with his approval, then continue to go—and don't worry about what others say.

Concerned Mother

Dear Ann: Maybe I'm old-fashioned and maybe I am just crazy but I have some strong feelings about morality. Will you please settle something for me.

My son is 28 years of age and has a fine job. He has dated some very lovely girls from outstanding families but somehow fine girls don't appeal to him. He likes the nobodies. Heaven knows where he finds them.

A few weeks ago he met a young woman who recently was divorced. How soon after a woman is divorced is it proper to be seen in public with her?

P.S.: She has a child.—CONCERNED MOTHER WHO WANTS TO KEEP THINGS RESPECTABLE.

Dear Concerned Mother: If the woman is no longer married, two minutes after the divorce is "proper." And the fact that she has a child has nothing whatever to do with it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

No Live Television For G-T 5 Orbits

The TV networks lost out in their efforts to get the National Aeronautics and Space Administration to put TV cameras aboard Gemini - Titan for its scheduled flight next Thursday.

Hal Humphrey

Several meetings with NASA administrator James Webb on the subject of on - board TV brought the same answer—that he, Webb, would not oppose Dr. George Mueller, NASA's associate administrator for manned space flight.

IT HAS BEEN Dr. Mueller's contention that there is no good reason to divert the extra money, weight and power required for TV cameras which were not planned for originally in the Gemini series of space flights.

Besides network pressure, NASA also has been asked about on-board TV by the National Aeronautics and Space Council which is headed by Vice President Hubert Humphrey. Astronaut Gordon Cooper, who will make the G-T 5 flight with Charles Conrad, wanted TV cameras because he said he found them useful on his 22-orbit Mercury mission in May 1963.

With TV cameras on the G-T 5, the networks could have brought viewers live pictures of astronauts Cooper and Conrad to relieve some of the monotony bound to accumulate for home viewers in the proposed eight-day duration of this flight.

ANOTHER BLOW to the networks' planned coverage of G-T 5 was the Department of Defense refusal for live TV coverage of the landing and recovery operation from aboard the U.S.S. Champlain.

Tests were made last month, and a signal successfully was bounced off the Early Bird satellite which the networks say would have been just as easy from portable equipment aboard the recovery ship in the Atlantic.

The official reason given for banning TV at the recovery site was that it would endanger safety. An unofficial version is that a battle was developing between International Telephone & Telegraph and COMSAT over which corporation's equipment would be used.

NOW THE Department of Defense has notified the network pool it may be able to telecast the recovery of G-T 6 which is scheduled for an early-October flight.

Roy Neal, aeronautic and space correspondent for NBC, says TV will have a couple of new things to show viewers. One of these is the Navy's underwater C-Lab 2 which is scheduled to be submerged in 210 feet of Pacific water off the coast of La Jolla, Calif., the day before the G-T 5 launch.

"When Cooper and Conrad are making their 17th orbit they will be passing over La Jolla," Neal reports, "and the TV pool plans to pick up their conversation with astronaut Scott Carpenter who will be down in C-Lab 2 with a crew of nine."

THE NAVY C-LAB 2 is equipped with four TV cameras — two inside and two on the outside hull. If things go right, viewers can watch Carpenter's end of the conversation with G-T 5 and whatever underwater denizens are hovering in the vicinity.

Sometime during its eight-day space tour, G-T 5 will eject what Neal describes as "a bundle of cans tied together" and called REP for Rendezvous Evolution Pod. This 3x2-foot object will float in space around G-T 5 and Cooper and Conrad will take aim at it for purposes of testing G-T 5's maneuverability in linking up with a space satellite.

Pictures of this operation, of course, will not be seen until after the flight when the film in G-T 5's movie cameras is developed.

THIS PROCEDURE also will apply to the firing of two Minuteman missiles from Vandenburg and one Polaris from Cape Kennedy during one of G-T 5's passes over the United States.

"Eventually we'll see how those launches looked to Cooper and Conrad from over 100 miles up, but not with live TV cameras," says Neal, edgily.

If NASA's Mueller ever relents in what seems almost a passion to keep live TV out of his manned space flights, the TV networks will be able to put on quite a show.

Distillery Launches 'Barrel-Raising' Plan

LOUISVILLE (AP) —A distillery has launched a do-it-yourself project in raising whisky barrels.

The distillery set out 13,000 hardwood seedlings in Kentucky, many of them white oak. In about 50 years, these will be mature enough to turn out the barrels in which whisky is aged.

"If someone doesn't start planting them now on a large scale, there will not be enough to supply commercial demands in the years ahead," said Ralph Dupps, an executive of the distillery.

The company has started or plans similar programs in Tennessee, Louisiana, Illinois and Arkansas.

Toilet Training Requires Patience

Eternal vigilance and endless patience seem to be the secret of success at toilet training of the tot. A mother from Kansas ABCDEFGHIJK writes: "Dear Dr. Myers:

Dr. Garry Myers

"A couple of years ago I wrote to you more or less condemning an article you had in The Capper's Weekly; also asking if you were going on theory, or actual experience. You may remember the letter as you replied with a wonderful letter of your own and I still have it!

"In my letter to you I told you that if I ever needed help, you'd be the one I'd come to, so here I am!

"I HAVE never had much trouble toilet-training my three older children, but little Joan is a different person altogther and she does have me stumped. At fifteen months she took a notion to want to sit on the potty, so I literally went just along with her, not discouraging, or really trying to encourage her in particular either. In about a week she was satisfied to wear diapers and go her little merry way.

"Now at nineteen-and-a-half months, I'm wanting to train her, she doesn't really care for wet panties, and knows by word what she had done, yet she won't sit on the potty for any more than thirty seconds, if that, sometimes. I've not scolded her, but tried to take a toy along, but this doesn't absolutely no good!

"I'm wondering what would be the best way to handle this. Just let it go as I'm doing this week; go along with her; or be a bit, ever so little, firm with her concerning this sitting problem. What would you say?

"IT REALLY does have me puzzled and I certainly don't want to do anything that might hinder the process. Any help you can give me will certainly be greatly appreciated."

My reply in part:

Since you have difficulty in getting your little child to cooperate in toilet training, I suggest that you forget about the matter for a few weeks or months and then go at it again. I like your patience. It will win.

Your main problem is to get her cooperation and keep from stirring up resistance in her. You might get her to sit on a nursery chair or commode for some minutes if you would say nursery rhymes then that she likes or show her pictures from a book she enjoys.

When she cooperates, especially to the point of voiding or evacuating, you should tenderly praise her.

No Live Television For G-T 5 Orbits

The TV networks lost out in their efforts to get the National Aeronautics and Space Administration to put TV cameras aboard Gemini - Titan for its scheduled flight next Thursday.

Hal Humphrey

Several meetings with NASA administrator James Webb on the subject of on - board TV brought the same answer—that he, Webb, would not oppose Dr. George Mueller, NASA's associate administrator for manned space flight.

IT HAS BEEN Dr. Mueller's contention that there is no good reason to divert the extra money, weight and power required for TV cameras which were not planned for originally in the Gemini series of space flights.

Besides network pressure, NASA also has been asked about on-board TV by the National Aeronautics and Space Council which is headed by Vice President Hubert Humphrey. Astronaut Gordon Cooper, who will make the G-T 5 flight with Charles Conrad, wanted TV cameras because he said he found them useful on his 22-orbit Mercury mission in May 1963.

With TV cameras on the G-T 5, the networks could have brought viewers live pictures of astronauts Cooper and Conrad to relieve some of the monotony bound to accumulate for home viewers in the proposed eight-day duration of this flight.

ANOTHER BLOW to the networks' planned coverage of G-T 5 was the Department of Defense refusal for live TV coverage of the landing and recovery operation from aboard the U.S.S. Champlain.

Tests were made last month, and a signal successfully was bounced off the Early Bird satellite which the networks say would have been just as easy from portable equipment aboard the recovery ship in the Atlantic.

The official reason given for banning TV at the recovery site was that it would endanger safety. An unofficial version is that a battle was developing between International Telephone & Telegraph and COMSAT over which corporation's equipment would be used.

NOW THE Department of Defense has notified the network pool it may be able to telecast the recovery of G-T 6 which is scheduled for an early-October flight.

Roy Neal, aeronautic and space correspondent for NBC, says TV will have a couple of new things to show viewers. One of these is the Navy's underwater C-Lab 2 which is scheduled to be submerged in 210 feet of Pacific water off the coast of La Jolla, Calif., the day before the G-T 5 launch.

"When Cooper and Conrad are making their 17th orbit they will be passing over La Jolla," Neal reports, "and the TV pool plans to pick up their conversation with astronaut Scott Carpenter who will be down in C-Lab 2 with a crew of nine."

THE NAVY C-LAB 2 is equipped with four TV cameras — two inside and two on the outside hull. If things go right, viewers can watch Carpenter's end of the conversation with G-T 5 and whatever underwater denizens are hovering in the vicinity.

Sometime during its eight-day space tour, G-T 5 will eject what Neal describes as "a bundle of cans tied together" and called REP for Rendezvous Evolution Pod. This 3x2-foot object will float in space around G-T 5 and Cooper and Conrad will take aim at it for purposes of testing G-T 5's maneuverability in linking up with a space satellite.

Pictures of this operation, of course, will not be seen until after the flight when the film in G-T 5's movie cameras is developed.

THIS PROCEDURE also will apply to the firing of two Minuteman missiles from Vandenburg and one Polaris from Cape Kennedy during one of G-T 5's passes over the United States.

"Eventually we'll see how those launches looked to Cooper and Conrad from over 100 miles up, but not with live TV cameras," says Neal, edgily.

If NASA's Mueller ever relents in what seems almost a passion to keep live TV out of his manned space flights, the TV networks will be able to put on quite a show.

Car Hits Wall, Officer Cites Young Driver

A young driver was cited on two counts early Sunday after his auto swerved out of control and hit a retaining wall on the River Rd., police reported.

David H. Bird, 21, of W. 3rd St. was taken to City Hospital in an ambulance after the collisbon at 4:16 a. m. yesterday that damaged the entire front of his 1957 model convertible, officers said.

Bird was admitted to the hospital with a possible concussion. He was in "fair" condition today.

A hearing for Bird will be scheduled after his release from the hospital.

Police said the auto collided with a retaining wall in front of the YELP Service, Inc., property on the west end of the River Rd.

Bird said he was traveling east about 30 miles an hour when he tapped the brake pedal to slow the auto. The left front brake grabbed, wrenching the steering wheel out of his grasp, and he was unable to regain control of the car, Bird said.

A collision Saturday at 12:11 p. m. on Broadway 65 feet north of E. 3rd St. damaged a 1963 four-door sedan operated by Sarah Clunk, 18, of 1644 Globe St. and a 1964 model convertible driven by Barbara K. Kenney, 22, of 407 Washington St., Newell, officers said.

The East End girl said she was halted in a line of traffic, waiting for a signal to change, when her car was hit from behind. The Newell driver said she applied her brakes and the car stopped momentarily, then went forward and hit the other auto.

She told Patrolman Orin C. Smith her car is equipped with power brakes which were adjusted within the last month, when new brake shoes were installed.

There was damage to the left tail light and the deck lid of the East End auto and the right front fender and grill of the Kenney car.

Young Marrieds Find Motorbikes Fad In Michigan

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Now that the young-married society set is joining teen-agers in the motorcycle and motorbike whirl, Michigan finds itself with a new traffic problem.

Registrations have zoomed. So have deaths. An auto driver's license gets one by as a rider-driver.

The State Safety Commission met last week to see what could be done. It got a lot of advice, but came up with no hard-and-fast cure.

Malcolm Whale, representing the State Department of Public Instruction, didn't want driver education "diluted" by bike riding instructions. Gordon Sheehe, of Michigan State University's Traffic Safety Center, suggested requirement of a special license for riders.

Frederick Davids, state police commissioner, said motorcycle and scooter fatalities rose from 26 in 1960 to 51 in 1964. Registrations soared from 28,813 in the first six months of 1964 to 44,622 for the same period this year. And, he added, the trend shows no sign of leveling off.

Motorbikes now have become a rage among the young-marrieds in Detroit's fashionable suburbs. Names from the auto-making Ford family and the trailer-making Fruehaufs are among recent additions.

More than 90 per cent of the world's population uses the metric system.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Ladies: If you have a vanity stool in your bedroom or bathroom, here's the cutest idea I have ever run across.

Why not but the nylon lace-type nightcaps that the girls use today? They come in all colors and designs.

I have found that these are darling to put over the seat on your vanity stools. They fit snugly and are easily washed.

I tried to buy nylon lace at my dime store, and my, does it cost per yard!

Don't waste your time buying lace and gathering it onto something, when you can buy it already gathered. After all, the caps cost only about a dollar!

If you have a vanity stool in your bathroom or bedroom, try using this method. It's absolutely adorable.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I'm a fisherwoman, and would like to pass along a wonderful hint.

When fishing, especially from a boat, use two clean, plastic bags (one inside the other) to hold everything you need, such as knife, cigarettes, matches, salt, pliers, scarf, soap, facial tissues, band-aids, comb, gloves, etc.

This way, when you need something instantly, you can plainly see what you are looking for through the plastic.

Besides, you can just lay it on the floor of the boat, and the contents never get wet. And, this is so easy to pack with your fishing gear.

EUNICE TYRELL.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER:

DEAR HELOISE: I have found a way to keep Junior from yelling when I want to look at his throat!

I use a small, flat lollipop to hold down his tongue — and, of course — he receives the lollipop after I have finished!

KAREN JAMES.

DEAR HELOISE: I would like to suggest to your other readers that, when using milk cartons for storing food, they line the cartons with plastic bags.

RUTH C. ARTHUR.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I cut off the ribbed tops from my son's worn out crew socks, make a slit in each side (about half an inch, or so, from the unfinished edge) for armholes, sew shoulder seams, leaving an opening large enough to go over the doll's head and make darling doll dresses.

Then I overcast the unfinished edges around the "neck" and "armholes" to prevent fraying.

Using one pair of socks, my daughter has matching sweaters for her little girl and boy dolls.

MRS. JAMES FREED.

DEAR HELOISE: We have rattan furniture in our den, and it was a nightmare to dust.

Then, I thought of using a clean paint brush to do the dusting, and it works wonderfully.

TESS L.

DEAR HELOISE: To prevent damaging our walls with nails, cup hooks, etc., I use adhesive-backed picture hooks to hold my curtain tie-backs.

More Help Given Texans On Homesteading Effort

NEWCASTLE, Wyo. (AP) — It looks like two families of Texans who are determined to homestead near McBride, Canada, will reach their destination before fall despite their misfortunes.

Mr. and Mrs. Dow Cunningham and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Freeman and eight children left six months ago from their homes near Bitter Creek, Tex., by wagon train.

The families were making about 20 miles a day on their 3,000-mile journey, but about a week ago they became stalled in Newcastle. They ran out of money and their equipment broke down.

A representative of the Canadian Immigration Service advised them their homestead was not in shape for the winter.

Cunningham then learned from a friend in McBride that his homestead had been vandalized and all his equipment was stolen or destroyed. The equipment included a small sawmill, haying equipment, tools and household effects. Buildings reportedly had been wrecked.

Because of the loss of his Canadian assets, Cunningham could no longer sponsor Freeman's immigration to Canada.

The president of Highland Enterprises, Inc., Jack L. Campbell of Newcastle, heard of their predicament. He appointed Freeman as the company's manufacturers' representative for Alberta and British Columbia. Campbell agreed to furnish a truck to take the homesteaders the rest of the way to Canada.

The Texans plan to leave Newcastle about the middle of next week with their horse power harnessed to a truck, upon which their livestock will be loaded for the rest of the journey.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Ladies: If you have a vanity stool in your bedroom or bathroom, here's the cutest idea I have ever run across.

Why not but the nylon lace-type nightcaps that the girls use today? They come in all colors and designs.

I have found that these are darling to put over the seat on your vanity stools. They fit snugly and are easily washed.

I tried to buy nylon lace at my dime store, and my, does it cost per yard!

Don't waste your time buying lace and gathering it onto something, when you can buy it already gathered. After all, the caps cost only about a dollar!

If you have a vanity stool in your bathroom or bedroom, try using this method. It's absolutely adorable.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I'm a fisherwoman, and would like to pass along a wonderful hint.

When fishing, especially from a boat, use two clean, plastic bags (one inside the other) to hold everything you need, such as knife, cigarettes, matches, salt, pliers, scarf, soap, facial tissues, band-aids, comb, gloves, etc.

This way, when you need something instantly, you can plainly see what you are looking for through the plastic.

Besides, you can just lay it on the floor of the boat, and the contents never get wet. And, this is so easy to pack with your fishing gear.

EUNICE TYRELL.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER:

DEAR HELOISE: I have found a way to keep Junior from yelling when I want to look at his throat!

I use a small, flat lollipop to hold down his tongue — and, of course — he receives the lollipop after I have finished!

KAREN JAMES.

DEAR HELOISE: I would like to suggest to your other readers that, when using milk cartons for storing food, they line the cartons with plastic bags.

RUTH C. ARTHUR.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I cut off the ribbed tops from my son's worn out crew socks, make a slit in each side (about half an inch, or so, from the unfinished edge) for armholes, sew shoulder seams, leaving an opening large enough to go over the doll's head and make darling doll dresses.

Then I overcast the unfinished edges around the "neck" and "armholes" to prevent fraying.

Using one pair of socks, my daughter has matching sweaters for her little girl and boy dolls.

MRS. JAMES FREED.

Then, I thought of using a clean paint brush to do the dusting, and it works wonderfully.

TESS L.

DEAR HELOISE: To prevent damaging our walls with nails, cup hooks, etc., I use adhesive-backed picture hooks to hold my curtain tie-backs.

SANDRA K.

Heloise welcomes all mail, especially household hints which she can pass on to readers as space permits. However, because of the tremendous volume of mail she receives daily, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will answer readers' questions in her column whenever possible.

More Help Given Texans On Homesteading Effort

NEWCASTLE, Wyo. (AP) — It looks like two families of Texans who are determined to homestead near McBride, Canada, will reach their destination before fall despite their misfortunes.

Mr. and Mrs. Dow Cunningham and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Freeman and eight children left six months ago from their homes near Bitter Creek, Tex., by wagon train.

The families were making about 20 miles a day on their 3,000-mile journey, but about a week ago they became stalled in Newcastle. They ran out of money and their equipment broke down.

A representative of the Canadian Immigration Service advised them their homestead was not in shape for the winter.

Cunningham then learned from a friend in McBride that his homestead had been vandalized and all his equipment was stolen or destroyed. The equipment included a small sawmill, haying equipment, tools and household effects. Buildings reportedly had been wrecked.

Because of the loss of his Canadian assets, Cunningham could no longer sponsor Freeman's immigration to Canada.

The president of Highland Enterprises, Inc., Jack L. Campbell of Newcastle, heard of their predicament. He appointed Freeman as the company's manufacturers' representative for Alberta and British Columbia. Campbell agreed to furnish a truck to take the homesteaders the rest of the way to Canada.

The Texans plan to leave Newcastle about the middle of next week with their horse power harnessed to a truck, upon which their livestock will be loaded for the rest of the journey.

The loganberry originated in the garden of Judge J. H. Logan at Santa Cruz, Calif., in 1881. The judge was trying to cross a wild blackberry with a cultivated variety, when some insect apparently played a trick on him. It pollinated a native blackberry plant with red raspberry pollen.

Action In Congress

GOP Sets Fight On Farm, Anti-Poverty Proposals

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans in Congress are set to fire both barrels this week at President Johnson's antipoverty program and his farm bill.

The Senate opens debate today on the $1.65 - billion bill which would provide funds to continue Johnson's antipoverty program for a second year.

Tuesday the House will take up still another controversial measure, the omnibus farm bill with its strongly disputed plan aimed at increasing the income of wheat farmers.

The House plans to devote three days to the farm bill. The measure's managers reportedly are at work at some last-minute revisions designed to soften the opposition.

The biggest floor battle on the antipoverty bill is expected over the right of governors to veto projects in their states. They have such a right under the present law passed in 1964.

The Senate Labor Committee wrote in a provision which would eliminate the veto on three major types of projects — community action, neighborhood Youths Corps and adult education.

Republican senators have pledged they will try to knock out this provision.

The $1.65-billion authorization for the year ahead in the Senate measure is what Johnson asked except for $150 million added in the Labor Committee for a special program aimed at helping "chronically unemployed poor adult workers with poor employment prospects."

The House, in passing its version of the legislation last month, authorized a $1.9 billion total.

Opponents say the administration proposal would lead to higher bread prices — a "bread tax."

Sponsors of the bill say it would bring an increase of only seven-tenths of a cent in the cost of the wheat which goes into a loaf of bread.

Backstage talk of a compromise on the farm measure centers in broad outline on a plan which would raise the price level at which the government could resell surplus grain — thereby curbing the competition the government poses to private grain dealers.

Police Don Swim Suits To Prevent California Riots

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Calif. (AP) — This city of 75,000—which sometimes plays host to 150,000 teen-agers at its seven miles of beaches may have the nation's least - dressed riot squad.

Fifteen officers in swimsuits have been assigned to the beaches to mingle with the crowds, watching for the first sign of riotous behavior. The officers wear their identification taped under their thigh-length surfer trunks and hide handcuffs in their hats.

"We've found that these riots don't just happen," said Sgt. Earl Robitaille. "They're planned. A bunch of troublemakers say, 'Let's go to Huntington Beach Sunday and have a riot.'

"All it takes is a comparative handful of boys throwing sand bombs and smashing things, and 700 or 800 other youngsters rush up just to see what's happening. Our plan is to grab the rioters before things get bad."

So far it has worked.

People In News

In the fall, the bride will finish her senior year at Vanderbilt University while the groom will start medical school in Nashville, Tenn.

TRIER, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Ludwig Erhard said Sunday that the door is open to all Arab states to resume relations with West Germany.

But he made plain that Arab countries must take the initiative in restoring the ties they severed after West Germany and Israel formalized their relations.

Africans Showed Suspicion, Peace Corps Girl Says

OBERLIN, Ohio (AP)—A secretary turned Peace Corps volunteer says villagers on the Ivory Coast of Africa distrusted her when she first arrived 21 months ago.

"They asked me, 'Why have you come here, when all Americans hate blacks?'" Pearle Hartley of North Lima said Sunday in an interview.

The 21-year-old home economics specialist said she told the villagers that she always wanted to know what Africa was like, and that she hoped to be an example to them that all Americans didn't hate black men.

Miss Hartley, just back from her African assignment, was sharing her experiences with 29 Peace Corps trainees at Oberlin College. She plans to enter Kent State University next month to study arts and sciences.

Only 18 when she joined the corps, she was sent in February, 1963, to M'bahiakron, a centrally located village in the Ivory Coast.

She worked in an area that had a population of 5,000. Trips were made to remote areas where food demonstrations were given a mobile unit.

She said she stressed the value of proper nutrition and found the villagers were not hungry even though they "did not eat the right foods."

Her only frustration during her stay, she said, was knowing village condition could not be improved as rapidly as she would have liked.

"I think I learned more than I taught," she added.

'Sam' Has Sweet Voice, Nice Face And Good Figure

Sam is a woman and proud of it.

Last week she started legal action to change her given name, Margaret, to Sam.

"Why not?" says Sam, 36, an agent for an airline. "It's short, easy to spell, simple to remember, and no one can make a nickname out of it.

First she made up her mind to legally change her name but couldn't convince her lawyer to stand up in court.

"I think he felt a little foolish about asking the judge to change my name to Sam," Sam says.

So she brushed up on the law herself and put a notice in the Miami Law Journal, noting that Margaret Quelch shall henceforth be known as Sam Quelch.

As Lodge Gets Ready To Take Over

Taylor Lists 4 Points For Victory

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, former ambassador to Saigon, is handing over to his successor a four-point strategy aimed at winning the war in Viet Nam.

Pursued unswervingly, that strategy can bring an eventual settlement with the Communists, Taylor said in a weekend interview.

As Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. prepared to leave Tuesday for his ambassadorship post in Saigon, Taylor outlined the four-point plan:

1. Maximum effort within South Viet Nam to defeat and destroy the Viet Cong units in the field. 2. Air strikes against military targets in North Viet Nam. 3. Continuing efforts to strengthen South Viet Nam's government. 4. Maintaining "readiness to talk of peace with any government sincerely seeking an honorable settlement.

"I consider that these four points constitute a sound strategy which, if adhered to without swerving, has a good chance of achieving U.S. and Vietnamese objectives," Taylor said.

In other comment on the Viet Nam situation:

— Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, in a speech prepared for the Veterans of Foreign Wars convention in Chicago, said the primary U.S. task in Viet Nam is to make the Communist aggressors "realize that our patience is greater than theirs and that time is on our side."

— Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, said the government is taking a "long hard look" at the possibility of imposing military censorship in Viet Nam. He said he was distressed by a news report which told of the movements of an American unit into a combat zone. The report was not carried by The Associated Press.

— Walt R. Rostow, State Department policy planner, said U.S.- South Vietnamese forces so far have achieved "better than a standoff" in battling the monsoon offensive of the Communist guerrillas.

— Sen. John J. Sparkman, D-Ala., said he expects no "general callup of the reserves" to meet mounting U.S. military needs in Viet Nam.

Taylor, responding to written questions submitted by The Associated Press, listed the pluses and minuses of his year as ambassador to Saigon.

"Probably the most important gain," he said, "was the development and adoption of the current strategy for conduct of the war against the Viet Cong and Hanoi."

He declined to predict just when peace might be won, but said "I would expect this war to end in an agreed settlement after the Communist leaders have become convinced that the U.S. will not pull out, that the Saigon government will not collapse, and that there is no further hope for a Viet Cong military victory."

Taylor said further that:

— The most important shortcoming during his year in Saigon was "the continuing uncertainty as to the stability of the central government."

— The rising American military role will boost the superiority of U.S. and Vietnamese ground forces over the Red guerrillas "to the point that they should be able to repel the enemy and eventually pass to the offensive on a broad front." The U.S. force growth also will improve Vietnamese morale and demonstrate the unqualified U.S. commitment.

— "There is no danger that I can see to this becoming an 'American war .'"

— Red China is already in the conflict through contributions of equipment, advisers, technicians and propaganda, but "I foresee little likelihood of Red China entering the war in an unrestricted sense."

Police Check New Strife In Chicago Area

CHICAGO (AP)—Hundreds of police, supported by some 2,000 national guardsmen held in reserve, continued today to enforce racial peace in a largely Negro neighborhood where rioting erupted Thursday and Friday nights.

There were no new outbreaks of violence Saturday or Sunday as police in the West Garfield Park area firmly pursued a policy of breaking up groups before they could become mobs.

More than 300 policemen patrolled the troubled area around the clock. Additional police stood by in nearby police districts and National Guards units were on standby duty at five armories.

This display of strength together with the strategy of banning groups and pleas from Negro leaders for common sense, were believed to be factors in easing the tense situation.

Violence erupted in the area after a Negro woman was killed by a fire truck responding to a fire call that turned out to be a false alarm. The rioting Thursday and Friday nights resulted in injuries to 67 persons and the arrest of 123.

Albert Raby, convenor of the Coordinating Council of Community Organizations, a civil rights group, expressed satisfaction with the restoration of peace but demanded that city officials investigate the cause of the outbreak.

"We're not going to be involved in keeping the peace at the price of injustice — continuing the status quo for these kids and others," he told newsmen.

Bell Slated To Collect $725 In Light Charges

A total of $725.34 in a special street lighting assessment will be certified to County Auditor Kenneth Bell for collection on the real estate tax duplicate after 16 property - owners failed to pay the charges before the deadline Thursday, City Auditor Lawrence J. Zollinger said.

A three per cent penalty will be applied for collection by the county, Zollinger said.

Fifty - five property owners paid $7,080.55 before the deadline on their assessments on the new fluorescent street lights in the downtown business district.

The assessment is based on $1.35 per front foot, representing the difference between the annual charge for the old incandescent system and the new fixtures.

11 File Applications For City Job Exams

A total of 11 applications were filed by the deadline Saturday for three tests the Municipal Civil Service Commission will give next Monday night at City Hall.

P. K. Calhoon, clerk, said two filed to take a police examination which will be given at 7 p. m. with four applying for a firemen's test slated at 7:30 p. m. Five applications were received for assistant maintenance man in the water department with the test scheduled at 8 p. m.

The fire and police jobs pay $400 a month for the first six months and then are increased to $440 a month. The maintenance post pays $2.24 hourly. The commission probably will meet later this week to screen the applications, Calhoon said.

The most extravagant gladitorial show in ancient Roman days was put on by the Emperor Trajan (A.D. 98-117) in the famous Circus Maximus. His show lasted 117 days and featured the combat of 4,941 pairs of gladiators.

Pair Relax Sunday

Cooper, Conrad Groom For Longest Space Trip

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Astronauts L. Gordon Cooper Jr. and Charles Conrad Jr. plunged today into the final phases of training for their eight-day space journey scheduled to start Thursday.

The two astronauts took their first day off in several weeks and relaxed with sports Sunday.

Cooper and astronaut Donald Slayton bobbed in a small boat in the Atlantic off Cape Kennedy and reported catching several fish. They said they hooked three sharks, but all escaped.

Conrad and astronaut Neil Armstrong took to the golf links at Port Malabar, about 40 miles from Cape Kennedy. Their scores were not reported. Armstrong and Elliott See are backup pilots for the upcoming Gemini 5 mission.

Cooper, an Air Force lieutenant colonel, and Conrad, a Navy lieutenant commander, today returned to the long hours of rehearsal for their flight, the longest yet planned by man.

It will equal the time planned for the first U.S. manned lunar landing trip. Medical experts hope the flight will erase any lingering doubts that man will be able to survive long enough in space to rocket to the moon and back.

Early in the flight, the astronauts are to attempt man's first rendezvous with another satellite. They will launch their own satellite from the spacecraft, back about 52 miles away from it and then use radar and other electronic aids to try to close within 20 feet of it.

It will be a major test for the Gemini 6 flight scheduled in October during which an attempt will be made to rendezvous and link up with another satellite which will be launched by another rocket.

Cooper and Conrad planned to spend most of today flat on their backs in a spacecraft simulator in the cape's mission control center. On the schedule were simulations of several launchings, key segments of the flight and failures.

Put On The Brakes

NEW DELHI (AP) — It's been a bit jerky on the Northern Railway system at times in the past 12 months. Officials say emergency brake chains on moving trains were pulled 25,772 times, mostly by "fun-loving students."

Within our solar system there are 31 moons in all. The earth has one of these moons, while the giant planet Jupiter has 12 moons, more than any other planet.

2 Motorists Penalized For Chester Mishaps

Motorists from East Liverpool and Wellsville were fined $10 and costs each by Mayor Harry Abrams of Chester in hearings Saturday as the result of charges stemming from traffic accidents.

John Hovack, 27, of East Liverpool had been charged with failure to have his vehicle under control and failure to have a driver's license following a mishap Aug. 5 on the 1st St. overpass.

Leo Sayre, 63, of 1760 Clark Ave., Wellsville, was cited for crossing the double line at the same location and striking an oncoming vehicle last Thursday. Sayre's hearing originally had been scheduled for Wednesday.

Park Martin Resigns, Harral Denies Charge

HARRISBURG — Pennsylvania Highways Secretary Henry D. Harral has countered a claim by Park H. Martin of Pittsburgh, resigned highways department consultant, that the department cannot achieve its long - range roads program.

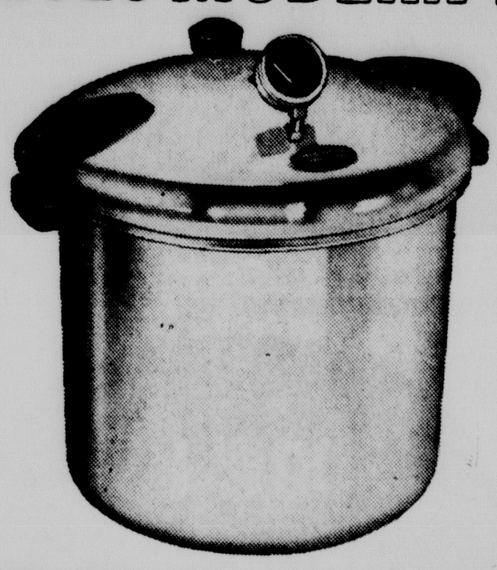

Sec. Harral said Martin's claim the department is not geared to spend over $250 million a year on construction is not upheld by budget figures which show $292 million set for actual construction and $271 million set for contract committments this year.

Martin's resignation July 27 was revealed over the weekend. Martin said he quit the $1 a year post because his services were not utilized by the highways department.

Tips On Gluing Veneer

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

When the veneer of a table top or other piece of furniture comes loose, it can be successfully glued back to its base only if the old adhesive is removed.

Sometimes this is easier said than done. It is especially difficult if the veneer is only slightly lifted from the surface and there is no apparent way to scrape off the old glue.

It may be that an expert can perform this task without damaging the veneer. Don't try it. There are any one of half a dozen reasons why it may cause trouble, entirely aside from the fact that it won't even work unless the glue is water solvent.

THE SAFEST procedure is to life the veneer very carefully to the point where there is some resistance.

Push a putty knife or spatula into the opening and scrape gently. If there still appears to be some hardened glue there, place sandpaper between the veneer and base and rub it back and forth as best you can, using the flat part of the putty knife to assist you. If the opening is very narrow, it may take you a while to get results, but this is better than failing to make a good repair.

Use a tiny artist's brush, typewriter brush or something similar to clean out the area, then apply new glue with a wire or anything that will get between the veneer and the base.

Place a cloth over the top of the repair and pile on books until the glue sets. Just how long this will be depends on the type of glue used, so read the label on the container to determine the setting time. For safety's sake, allow even longer than is recommended.

REGLUING the loose veneeer may be part of an over-all finishing job.

In that event, removal of the old finish is best done before tackling the veneer. But putting on the new finish should come later.

Perhaps a week should elapse between the veneer regluing and the application of the finishing material. This is especially important if any rubbing is to be done, otherwise you risk the chance of disturbing the bond between the veneer and the base on the spot which was repaired.

FRONT PORCH AND superb lounge area can be one and the same when a handsome wood deck leads you to the front door. Privacy on deck is assured by walls designed in resawn cedar to match house walls. Exposed, painted framework picks up color of house trim.

Services Slated For Judge Fess, Writer, Historian

The death of the 73-year-old Ohio appellate court jurist was ruled suicide by Lucas County Coroner Harry Mignerey. Authorities said Fess was found in his car in the family garage and death was attributed to carbon monoxide fumes.

Mignerey said Fess, judge of the 6th District Court of Appeals, had been ailing and was despondent.

Fess, the son of a former U.S. senator from Ohio, Simeon Fess, was born in Ada, Ohio.

A graduate of Antioch College in Yellow Springs in 1911, Fess was principal of Hilliard High School and taught in Piqua in 1912.

He later attended National University Law School in Washington, D. C., and while in school served as parliamentarian in the U.S. House of Representatives.

Fess also served as parliamentarian at eight Republican national conventions from 1920 to 1948.

He had lived in Toledo since 1926 and served here as an assistant U.S. attorney and clerk of the Board of Elections. He was appointed to his present post in 1945.

Virginia City Stages Annual 'Camel Derby'

VIRGINIA CITY, Nev. (AP) — A one-humped ship of the desert glided not too gracefully across the finish line ahead of four other camels to win the sixth annual revival of Virginia City's camel races Sunday.

State Sen. James Slattery bounced to a win in the ostrich races. The big birds pulled tiny sulkies.

Camel races started in Virginia City back in the days when the animals were used to haul salt to silver refineries.

Tips On Gluing Veneer

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

When the veneer of a table top or other piece of furniture comes loose, it can be successfully glued back to its base only if the old adhesive is removed.

Sometimes this is easier said than done. It is especially difficult if the veneer is only slightly lifted from the surface and there is no apparent way to scrape off the old glue.

It may be that an expert can perform this task without damaging the veneer. Don't try it. There are any one of half a dozen reasons why it may cause trouble, entirely aside from the fact that it won't even work unless the glue is water solvent.

THE SAFEST procedure is to life the veneer very carefully to the point where there is some resistance.

Push a putty knife or spatula into the opening and scrape gently. If there still appears to be some hardened glue there, place sandpaper between the veneer and base and rub it back and forth as best you can, using the flat part of the putty knife to assist you. If the opening is very narrow, it may take you a while to get results, but this is better than failing to make a good repair.

Use a tiny artist's brush, typewriter brush or something similar to clean out the area, then apply new glue with a wire or anything that will get between the veneer and the base.

Place a cloth over the top of the repair and pile on books until the glue sets. Just how long this will be depends on the type of glue used, so read the label on the container to determine the setting time. For safety's sake, allow even longer than is recommended.

REGLUING the loose veneeer may be part of an over-all finishing job.

In that event, removal of the old finish is best done before tackling the veneer. But putting on the new finish should come later.

Perhaps a week should elapse between the veneer regluing and the application of the finishing material. This is especially important if any rubbing is to be done, otherwise you risk the chance of disturbing the bond between the veneer and the base on the spot which was repaired.

FRONT PORCH AND superb lounge area can be one and the same when a handsome wood deck leads you to the front door. Privacy on deck is assured by walls designed in resawn cedar to match house walls. Exposed, painted framework picks up color of house trim.

Paint For Safety

Brightened Danger Spots Help

Everywhere around you you see the colorful miracles worked by paint.

Your homes and offices, and the appliances and furniture in them, are made brighter with this almost-magical product. At the same time, paint protects the surfaces of these things.

But, paint does more than that. It is also a safety guardian for you. You see it used for safety measures on your streets, in your factories and in public places. Why not make your home safer by applying some of these same techniques, suggests the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association of Washington, D. C.

FIRST, TAKE a look at your safety equipment such as fire extinguishers and first - aid kits. Paint them in eye-catching colors.

Red is the common color for fire extinguishing equipment. First-aid supply kits are usually painted a bright green. After you've painted them, put them in locations that are easily accessible and be sure that everyone in your family knows exactly where they are.

What about your stepladder? It's commonly thought of as a safety measure in itself. But, have you checked it lately for cracks? You should do this periodically.

If it needs repairs or if it needs to be replaced, do so immediately. Once you're sure you have safe, sturdy support, paint the bottom and top steps a bright color. This will call attention to them and will greatly reduce the chance of a misstep and unfortunate fall.

BASEMENT STEPS are another hazard. Frequently, a hurried rush down the stairs means a tumble to the bottom. Again, a bright color on the top and bottom steps is an ideal safety precaution. Yellow and red are good choices. But, if your basement is finished in other colors, choose the brightest one as your caution signal.

Slips and falls often occur in dark hallways. It's an excellent idea to paint these areas in light colors and to keep them well illuminated. Not only will this make them safer, but it will enhance the beauty of your home as well.

Avoid possible falls and bumps while groping for a light switch in the darkened room by painting the plates with luminous paint. You'll always be able to locate the switch quickly and easily this way. Incidentally, these paints are available in colors that match or harmonize with your wall colors.

The importance of checking potentially hazardous areas in your home periodically cannot be stressed enough.

But, it is equally as important, if not more so, to make any necessary repairs or replacements immediately. While you are making your safety check, remember the value of paint in making your home a safer place in which to live. The cost will be minimal in terms of your protection and safety.

How To Find Trouble When Bell's 'Dead'

Question: The bell on our front door works with two dry cell batteries. A few months ago, the bell didn't work. After I bought new batteries, it worked again. This time it didn't last more than two weeks. Once more I replaced the batteries and once more it was okay. Now the bell is out of order again. Can you tell me what is wrong and how to fix it?

Answer: It appears likely that there is a short circuit in the bell wiring. This results when two pieces of uninsulated wiring touch and thus take the power out of the batteries very quickly. You can attempt to trace the short circuit with a tester available at an inexpensive price in a hardware store or simply replace the wiring.

The latter is done by attaching new wires to the old and fishing them through the wall. Before you do this, however, be sure that this time it isn't the bell button that is at fault.

Remove the push button and see if the two wires are connected properly. If they are, short circuit the two terminals with the blade of a screwdriver or knife. If the bell rings, then the push button needs replacing.

Should there be no sound, check the batteries. Connect a wire to one terminal of one battery and touch it to the other. If there is a spark, the battery is good. When both batteries are working, and the push button is operating, then you know something is wrong with the wiring.

There are 32 quarts in a common U.S. bushel.

Bomb Wrecks Truck On Wickliffe Highway

WICKLIFFE, Ohio (AP)—Police were investigating today the apparent bombing of a heavy truck, which was demolished by a blast in a parking lot near the Lakeland Freeway Sunday night.

The explosion also shattered about 60 panes of glass in a nearby building occupied by the Euclid Furnace & Sheet Metal Co.

Drying Out Process

NEW DELHI (AP) — The postal system in New Delhi tends to be "all wet" at times but authorities are taking remedial steps. Metal collection boxes resting on the ground and thus subject to water seepage will be placed on concrete platforms.

You Can Give A Home Look Of Distinction

The ever - increasing cost of putting up a substantial building has led to every kind of substitution imaginable.

It is not an exaggeration to say that one could drive through a development or through any new settlement without seeing any of the substantial doors and the heavy hardware we used to associate with a good house.

The average home owner seems doomed to take a very plain house for a very substantial sum and then proceed to dress up and improve the property according to his own taste or requirements.

Some time ago we saw an otherwise very plain door which had been turned into what looked like a tremendously heavy and well-fitted one.

A close examination revealed that the owner had done a clever job by simulating old - fashioned wrought - iron hinges and straps with pieces of hardboard, cut to those shapes and screwed to the face of the door. The pieces were painted black and it was practically impossible to tell them from real wrought-iron and expensive hardware.

If your own house is one of a row, with absolutely nothing to distinguish it from the others, and without any individuality, it might be an excellent idea to spend a bit of time looking at it and trying to figure out just how it could be improved.

You probably will find that a slight change in color would do the trick — and by color we do not mean repainting the house, but rather to change the color of the door or the shutters.

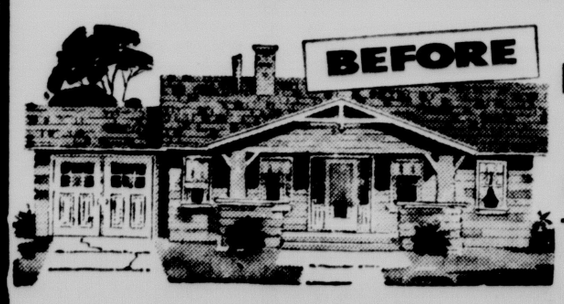

It might be that a small cupola and weather vane on the garage would be an improvement, or perhaps window boxes or shrub - filled tubs on each side of the entrance.

Egypt's Aswan Dam, when completed in 1968, will be 364 feet high and create a lake 300 miles long.

FIRST, TAKE a look at your safety equipment such as fire extinguishers and first - aid kits. Paint them in eye-catching colors.

Red is the common color for fire extinguishing equipment. First-aid supply kits are usually painted a bright green. After you've painted them, put them in locations that are easily accessible and be sure that everyone in your family knows exactly where they are.

What about your stepladder? It's commonly thought of as a safety measure in itself. But, have you checked it lately for cracks? You should do this periodically.

If it needs repairs or if it needs to be replaced, do so immediately. Once you're sure you have safe, sturdy support, paint the bottom and top steps a bright color. This will call attention to them and will greatly reduce the chance of a misstep and unfortunate fall.

BASEMENT STEPS are another hazard. Frequently, a hurried rush down the stairs means a tumble to the bottom. Again, a bright color on the top and bottom steps is an ideal safety precaution. Yellow and red are good choices. But, if your basement is finished in other colors, choose the brightest one as your caution signal.

Slips and falls often occur in dark hallways. It's an excellent idea to paint these areas in light colors and to keep them well illuminated. Not only will this make them safer, but it will enhance the beauty of your home as well.

Avoid possible falls and bumps while groping for a light switch in the darkened room by painting the plates with luminous paint. You'll always be able to locate the switch quickly and easily this way. Incidentally, these paints are available in colors that match or harmonize with your wall colors.

The importance of checking potentially hazardous areas in your home periodically cannot be stressed enough.

But, it is equally as important, if not more so, to make any necessary repairs or replacements immediately. While you are making your safety check, remember the value of paint in making your home a safer place in which to live. The cost will be minimal in terms of your protection and safety.

How To Find Trouble When Bell's 'Dead'

Question: The bell on our front door works with two dry cell batteries. A few months ago, the bell didn't work. After I bought new batteries, it worked again. This time it didn't last more than two weeks. Once more I replaced the batteries and once more it was okay. Now the bell is out of order again. Can you tell me what is wrong and how to fix it?

Answer: It appears likely that there is a short circuit in the bell wiring. This results when two pieces of uninsulated wiring touch and thus take the power out of the batteries very quickly. You can attempt to trace the short circuit with a tester available at an inexpensive price in a hardware store or simply replace the wiring.

The latter is done by attaching new wires to the old and fishing them through the wall. Before you do this, however, be sure that this time it isn't the bell button that is at fault.

Remove the push button and see if the two wires are connected properly. If they are, short circuit the two terminals with the blade of a screwdriver or knife. If the bell rings, then the push button needs replacing.

Should there be no sound, check the batteries. Connect a wire to one terminal of one battery and touch it to the other. If there is a spark, the battery is good. When both batteries are working, and the push button is operating, then you know something is wrong with the wiring.

There are 32 quarts in a common U.S. bushel.

Bomb Wrecks Truck On Wickliffe Highway

WICKLIFFE, Ohio (AP)—Police were investigating today the apparent bombing of a heavy truck, which was demolished by a blast in a parking lot near the Lakeland Freeway Sunday night.

The explosion also shattered about 60 panes of glass in a nearby building occupied by the Euclid Furnace & Sheet Metal Co.

No one was injured in the blast.

NEW DELHI (AP) — The postal system in New Delhi tends to be "all wet" at times but authorities are taking remedial steps. Metal collection boxes resting on the ground and thus subject to water seepage will be placed on concrete platforms.

You Can Give A Home Look Of Distinction

The ever - increasing cost of putting up a substantial building has led to every kind of substitution imaginable.

It is not an exaggeration to say that one could drive through a development or through any new settlement without seeing any of the substantial doors and the heavy hardware we used to associate with a good house.

The average home owner seems doomed to take a very plain house for a very substantial sum and then proceed to dress up and improve the property according to his own taste or requirements.

Some time ago we saw an otherwise very plain door which had been turned into what looked like a tremendously heavy and well-fitted one.

A close examination revealed that the owner had done a clever job by simulating old - fashioned wrought - iron hinges and straps with pieces of hardboard, cut to those shapes and screwed to the face of the door. The pieces were painted black and it was practically impossible to tell them from real wrought-iron and expensive hardware.

If your own house is one of a row, with absolutely nothing to distinguish it from the others, and without any individuality, it might be an excellent idea to spend a bit of time looking at it and trying to figure out just how it could be improved.

You probably will find that a slight change in color would do the trick — and by color we do not mean repainting the house, but rather to change the color of the door or the shutters.

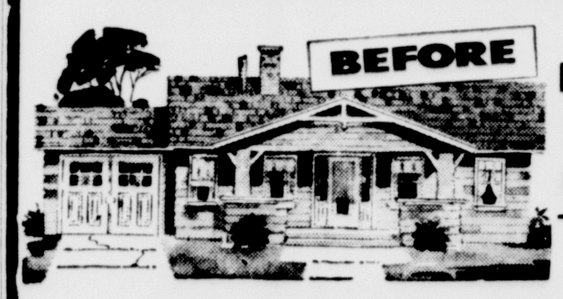

It might be that a small cupola and weather vane on the garage would be an improvement, or perhaps window boxes or shrub - filled tubs on each side of the entrance.

Egypt's Aswan Dam, when completed in 1968, will be 364 feet high and create a lake 300 miles long.

Marr Chalks Up Two-Stroke Victory In PGA Tourney

Nicklaus, Casper Tie For 2nd Spot

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

LIGONIER, Pa. (AP) — Dave Marr won an imposing array of prizes with his triumph in the 47th Professional Golfers' Association Championship—$25,000 for a start, along with the prestige of capturing one of golf's four biggest titles and a handsome, coveted trophy.

But his biggest reward was confidence regained—the confidence he could be a winner.

"I was convinced I would never win again," the trim Texan, choked with emotion and near tears, said Sunday after his stirring two-stroke victory over Jack Nicklaus and Billy Casper at Laurel Valley's golf club.

"When I blew the Insurance Open three weeks ago I said to my wife, 'Susie, I'm just never going to win a tournament'...I thought maybe it was the end of the line."

But Marr faced the challenges at Laurel Valley—the pressure, the heat, the threats of proven champions Nicklaus and Casper—and won for the first time in over three years. He went into the fourth round tied with Tommy Aaron, four under par for 54 holes.

Aaron, playing in the threesome ahead with Casper and Sam Snead, came apart completely. But after nine holes, Casper had pulled into a first-place tie with Marr while Nicklaus and Dickinson—playing with Marr—were only a shot back.

However, Marr regained command with birdies on 10 and 11, then clinched it with scrambling, vital pars on the two tough closing holes. His even par 71 gave him a 280. Nicklaus, also with a 71, matched Casper's final-day score and 282 total.

Nicklaus, the heavy pretourney favorite and winner of the Thunderbird and Philadelphia Classics the past two weeks, got $12,500 for a neeat sum of $56,800 in three successive tournaments. The Masters champion has won $126,500 for the year, just $1,730 shy of the record set by Arnold Palmer in 1963.

Bo Wininger, colorful 44-year-old veteran, zoomed up to fourth place with a torrid 66, giving him a 283. Dickinson faded to a 74, for a 284 and fifth, while Snead shot a 72 and tied at 285 with Australian Bruce Devlin, who had a 70.

Aaron, a noted fast starter seeking his first victory, led the first two rounds and shared first with Marr after three, but once again collapsed. He blew to a 78, tying at 287 with Jack Burke, Jacky Cupit, Rod Funseth and Bob McCallister.

Palmer, Laurel Valley's home pro and indolized demigod in these Western Pennsylvania highlands, closed with his fourth straight over-par round. He posted a 73 to go with earlier scores of 72-75-74 for 294.

Wagner's Home Run Gives Tribe Split

★ ★ ★ Indians Win 3 Of 4 Games

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Birdie Tebbetts has his Ouija board working overtime so you can understand if somtimes the results are a bit slow.

Take Sunday for example. The American League-leading Minnesota Twins had defeated Tebbetts' Cleveland Indians 4-3 in the first game of a doubleheader and led 3-1 in the ninth inning of the nightcap.

With two out, Tebbetts was frantically looking for a way to rescue his club from a double defeat. Larry Brown singled, giving Tebbets and his Ouija some working room. When pinch hitter Max Alvis walloped a home run, tying the score, Tebbetts and Ouija were back in the fight.

Jerry Kindall's 11th-inning homer put Birdie out on a limb again as the Indians came to bat in the bottom of the 11th. But Chico Salmon singled and Brown doubled on Bill Pleis' first two pitches.

Salmon scored the tying run and Brown moved to third when Pleis balked pitching to Duke Sims. The first pitch to Sims was a ball when Tebbetts started getting urgent messages from his little helper.

Suddenly, there was Leon Wagner with a bat in his hands, taking over for Sims with the one ball count.

Two pitches later Wagner's 22nd home run had given Cleveland a 6-4 victory and put Minnesota in shock.

Detroit joined Cleveland in second place by sweeping a doubleheader from Los Angeles 9-2 and 9-5.

Elsewhere in the American League, New York split a doubleheader with Kansas City, winning the nightcap 7-3 after dropping the opener 4-1. Chicago topped Boston 7-4 and Washington whipped Baltimore 4-2.

Detroit scored six runs in the first inning of the opener and coasted behind Joe Sparma, 9-5. The Tigers sent 10 men to the plate with Norm Cash's homer and Willie Horton's double the big blows.

In the nightcap, Don Demeter, Ray Oyler and Gates Brown had three hits apiece and Demeter and Oyler each drove in two runs.

Steven Hamilton pitched four innings of one-hit relief as the Yankees gained the split. Jack Gibbs, Joe Pepitone and Bobby Richardson all homered in the nightcap.

J. C. Martin and Danny Cater ripped eighth-inning homers that helped Chicago defeat Boston.

Baltimore slipped to fourth place, dropping its third straight to Washington. Ron Kline snuffed out an Oriole rally in the ninth, saving it for Pete Richert, 11-9. Woodie Held homered for the Senators.

Browns' Passing Game Sharp In 37-21 Victory

By The Associated Press

The Cleveland Browns' vaunted aerial attack, supposedly short-circuited by the loss of pass-catching ace Paul Warfield, has passed its first preseason test with flying colors.

Led by quarterbacks Frank Ryan and Jim Ninowski, the defending National Football League champions whipped the San Francisco 49ers 37-21 Sunday in their first exhibition start against NFL competition.

The Browns, who lost Warfield for two months when the former Ohio State flash fractured his shoulder in last month's victory over the College All-Stars, shook Gary Collins and Walt Roberts loose for three long touchdown bombs against the 49ers.

In Sunday's other action Philadelphia's Tim Brown paced the Eagles to a 20-17 NFL exhibition victory over Detroit and the San Diego Chargers, led by quarterback John Hadl, walloped Kansas City 31-10 in an American Football League warm-up.

Saturday night, a crowd of 75,229 — largest ever for a pro exhibition in a nonleague city — packed the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans to watch the Baltimore Colts overpower the St. Louis Cardinals 22-10 while NFL exhibitions in Atlanta's new stadium and Green Bay's expanded park drew turnouts of 39,120 and 50,837.

Elsewhere Saturday night, Houston upended the AFL champion Buffalo Bills 29-7 at Buffalo and Denver came from behind to whip Oakland 27-17 in an AFL test at Salt Lake City.

The scheduled NFL exhibition between Dallas and Los Angeles was postponed until Tuesday night because of the Los Angeles riots.

Mrs. Ruth Haude of Pittsburgh defeated Ruth Sadler of Cleveland, 6-2, 6-2, for the women's singles trophy.

Bob Bennett of Sewickley, Pa., teamed with Ken Thompson of Washington, D. C., to edge Jack Wright of Wheeling and Don Mercer of Pittsburgh, 6-3, 5-7, 7-5, 11-9, for the doubles championship.

Mrs. Sadler and Ann Cherna of Cleveland, Ohio, posted a 6-4, 4, 6-3, women's doubles victory over Karen Knowles and Martha Krabell, both of Detroit, Mich.

Giants Halt Phils, 15-9

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Masanori Murakami received a sports car from a soy sauce firm before he started his first major league game. But once it began he got nothing but trouble from the Philadelphia Phillies.

Murakami, the only Japanese ever to play in the majors, stayed around for less than three innings Sunday although San Francisco trounced Philadelphia 15-9.

The 21 - year - old left-hander was honored in pre-game ceremonies witnessed by more than 1,200 members of northern California's Japanese community.

With one out in the first inning, John Callison and Rich Allen singled. Murakami, however, escaper trouble by strlking out Dick Stuart and Alex Johnson. The youngster struck out two more Phillies in the second, then got into trouble again in the third.

Ray Culp walked, Cookie Rojas singled and one out later, Allen tripled for two runs. That was all for Murakami, who had compiled a 3-1 record in 26 relief appearances after finally joining the Giants in May.

His arrival in this country was delayed by a three-month controversy between the Giants and the Nankai Hawks over whether Murakami would play in the United States or Japan.

In other National League games Pittsburgh trimmed the first-place Los Angeles Dodgers 4-2, Milwaukee edged Chicago 4-3 in 12 innings, St. Louis whipped Cincinnati 12-7 and New York blanked Houston 3-0.

Jim Hart's grand slam homer in the third inning and Willie McCovey's three-run blast, his 28th, in the sixth powered the Giants' comeback. The Phillies erupted for five runs in the ninth after Pat Corrales was awarded first base on catcher Tom Haller's interference with two out and the bases loaded.

Pittsburgh executed three crucial bunts against Don Drysdale, who has had a bad knee, in cutting the Dodgers' lead to 1½ games over Milwaukee.

Denis Menke raced home with Milwaukee's winning run in the 12th inning as Don Dillard grounded into a force play at second with the bases loaded. The Cubs had tied it 3-3 in the ninth on Ed Mathews' two-out wild throw after Mack Jones had slugged a two-run homer in the Braves' eighth.

Investigation Of Amateurs Opens Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators called young track star Gerry Lindgren to testify today in a wide-scale probe of the row between ruling powers of U.S. amateur athletics which has caught him and others "in the middle."

The investigation, starting today, is to continue through two weeks with 42 witnesses scheduled to testify.

The Senate Commerce Committee seeks to learn in the hearings whether the fight between the Amateur Athletic Union and National Collegiate Athletic Assn. has reached proportions endangering the careers of athletes and U.S. interests in competitions, including the Olympic Games.

Marr Chalks Up Two-Stroke Victory In PGA Tourney

Nicklaus, Casper Tie For 2nd Spot

LIGONIER, Pa. (AP) — Dave Marr won an imposing array of prizes with his triumph in the 47th Professional Golfers' Association Championship—$25,000 for a start, along with the prestige of capturing one of golf's four biggest titles and a handsome, coveted trophy.

But his biggest reward was confidence regained—the confidence he could be a winner.

"I was convinced I would never win again," the trim Texan, choked with emotion and near tears, said Sunday after his stirring two-stroke victory over Jack Nicklaus and Billy Casper at Laurel Valley's golf club.

"When I blew the Insurance Open three weeks ago I said to my wife, 'Susie, I'm just never going to win a tournament'...I thought maybe it was the end of the line."

But Marr faced the challenges at Laurel Valley—the pressure, the heat, the threats of proven champions Nicklaus and Casper—and won for the first time in over three years. He went into the fourth round tied with Tommy Aaron, four under par for 54 holes.

Aaron, playing in the threesome ahead with Casper and Sam Snead, came apart completely. But after nine holes, Casper had pulled into a first-place tie with Marr while Nicklaus and Dickinson—playing with Marr—were only a shot back.

However, Marr regained command with birdies on 10 and 11, then clinched it with scrambling, vital pars on the two tough closing holes. His even par 71 gave him a 280. Nicklaus, also with a 71, matched Casper's final-day score and 282 total.

Nicklaus, the heavy pretourney favorite and winner of the Thunderbird and Philadelphia Classics the past two weeks, got $12,500 for a neeat sum of $56,800 in three successive tournaments. The Masters champion has won $126,500 for the year, just $1,730 shy of the record set by Arnold Palmer in 1963.

Bo Wininger, colorful 44-year-old veteran, zoomed up to fourth place with a torrid 66, giving him a 283. Dickinson faded to a 74, for a 284 and fifth, while Snead shot a 72 and tied at 285 with Australian Bruce Devlin, who had a 70.

Aaron, a noted fast starter seeking his first victory, led the first two rounds and shared first with Marr after three, but once again collapsed. He blew to a 78, tying at 287 with Jack Burke, Jacky Cupit, Rod Funseth and Bob McCallister.

Palmer, Laurel Valley's home pro and indolized demigod in these Western Pennsylvania highlands, closed with his fourth straight over-par round. He posted a 73 to go with earlier scores of 72-75-74 for 294.

Wagner's Home Run Gives Tribe Split

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ Indians Win 3 Of 4 Games

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Birdie Tebbetts has his Ouija board working overtime so you can understand if somtimes the results are a bit slow.

Take Sunday for example. The American League-leading Minnesota Twins had defeated Tebbetts' Cleveland Indians 4-3 in the first game of a doubleheader and led 3-1 in the ninth inning of the nightcap.

With two out, Tebbetts was frantically looking for a way to rescue his club from a double defeat. Larry Brown singled, giving Tebbets and his Ouija some working room. When pinch hitter Max Alvis walloped a home run, tying the score, Tebbetts and Ouija were back in the fight.

Jerry Kindall's 11th-inning homer put Birdie out on a limb again as the Indians came to bat in the bottom of the 11th. But Chico Salmon singled and Brown doubled on Bill Pleis' first two pitches.

Salmon scored the tying run and Brown moved to third when Pleis balked pitching to Duke Sims. The first pitch to Sims was a ball when Tebbetts started getting urgent messages from his little helper.

Suddenly, there was Leon Wagner with a bat in his hands, taking over for Sims with the one ball count.

Two pitches later Wagner's 22nd home run had given Cleveland a 6-4 victory and put Minnesota in shock.

Detroit joined Cleveland in second place by sweeping a doubleheader from Los Angeles 9-2 and 9-5.

Elsewhere in the American League, New York split a doubleheader with Kansas City, winning the nightcap 7-3 after dropping the opener 4-1. Chicago topped Boston 7-4 and Washington whipped Baltimore 4-2.

Detroit scored six runs in the first inning of the opener and coasted behind Joe Sparma, 9-5. The Tigers sent 10 men to the plate with Norm Cash's homer and Willie Horton's double the big blows.

In the nightcap, Don Demeter, Ray Oyler and Gates Brown had three hits apiece and Demeter and Oyler each drove in two runs.

Steven Hamilton pitched four innings of one-hit relief as the Yankees gained the split. Jack Gibbs, Joe Pepitone and Bobby Richardson all homered in the nightcap.

J. C. Martin and Danny Cater ripped eighth-inning homers that helped Chicago defeat Boston.

Baltimore slipped to fourth place, dropping its third straight to Washington. Ron Kline snuffed out an Oriole rally in the ninth, saving it for Pete Richert, 11-9. Woodie Held homered for the Senators.

Browns' Passing Game Sharp In 37-21 Victory

By The Associated Press

The Cleveland Browns' vaunted aerial attack, supposedly short-circuited by the loss of pass-catching ace Paul Warfield, has passed its first preseason test with flying colors.

Led by quarterbacks Frank Ryan and Jim Ninowski, the defending National Football League champions whipped the San Francisco 49ers 37-21 Sunday in their first exhibition start against NFL competition.

The Browns, who lost Warfield for two months when the former Ohio State flash fractured his shoulder in last month's victory over the College All-Stars, shook Gary Collins and Walt Roberts loose for three long touchdown bombs against the 49ers.

In Sunday's other action Philadelphia's Tim Brown paced the Eagles to a 20-17 NFL exhibition victory over Detroit and the San Diego Chargers, led by quarterback John Hadl, walloped Kansas City 31-10 in an American Football League warm-up.

Saturday night, a crowd of 75,229 — largest ever for a pro exhibition in a nonleague city — packed the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans to watch the Baltimore Colts overpower the St. Louis Cardinals 22-10 while NFL exhibitions in Atlanta's new stadium and Green Bay's expanded park drew turnouts of 39,120 and 50,837.

Elsewhere Saturday night, Houston upended the AFL champion Buffalo Bills 29-7 at Buffalo and Denver came from behind to whip Oakland 27-17 in an AFL test at Salt Lake City.

The scheduled NFL exhibition between Dallas and Los Angeles was postponed until Tuesday night because of the Los Angeles riots.

Mrs. Sadler and Ann Cherna of Cleveland, Ohio, posted a 6-4, 4, 6-3, women's doubles victory over Karen Knowles and Martha Krabell, both of Detroit, Mich.

Giants Halt Phils, 15-9

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Masanori Murakami received a sports car from a soy sauce firm before he started his first major league game. But once it began he got nothing but trouble from the Philadelphia Phillies.

Murakami, the only Japanese ever to play in the majors, stayed around for less than three innings Sunday although San Francisco trounced Philadelphia 15-9.

The 21 - year - old left-hander was honored in pre-game ceremonies witnessed by more than 1,200 members of northern California's Japanese community.

With one out in the first inning, John Callison and Rich Allen singled. Murakami, however, escaper trouble by strlking out Dick Stuart and Alex Johnson. The youngster struck out two more Phillies in the second, then got into trouble again in the third.

Ray Culp walked, Cookie Rojas singled and one out later, Allen tripled for two runs. That was all for Murakami, who had compiled a 3-1 record in 26 relief appearances after finally joining the Giants in May.

His arrival in this country was delayed by a three-month controversy between the Giants and the Nankai Hawks over whether Murakami would play in the United States or Japan.

In other National League games Pittsburgh trimmed the first-place Los Angeles Dodgers 4-2, Milwaukee edged Chicago 4-3 in 12 innings, St. Louis whipped Cincinnati 12-7 and New York blanked Houston 3-0.

Jim Hart's grand slam homer in the third inning and Willie McCovey's three-run blast, his 28th, in the sixth powered the Giants' comeback. The Phillies erupted for five runs in the ninth after Pat Corrales was awarded first base on catcher Tom Haller's interference with two out and the bases loaded.

Pittsburgh executed three crucial bunts against Don Drysdale, who has had a bad knee, in cutting the Dodgers' lead to 1½ games over Milwaukee.

Denis Menke raced home with Milwaukee's winning run in the 12th inning as Don Dillard grounded into a force play at second with the bases loaded. The Cubs had tied it 3-3 in the ninth on Ed Mathews' two-out wild throw after Mack Jones had slugged a two-run homer in the Braves' eighth.

Investigation Of Amateurs Opens Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators called young track star Gerry Lindgren to testify today in a wide-scale probe of the row between ruling powers of U.S. amateur athletics which has caught him and others "in the middle."

The investigation, starting today, is to continue through two weeks with 42 witnesses scheduled to testify.

The Senate Commerce Committee seeks to learn in the hearings whether the fight between the Amateur Athletic Union and National Collegiate Athletic Assn. has reached proportions endangering the careers of athletes and U.S. interests in competitions, including the Olympic Games.

Vikings Considered Top Contender For NFL Title

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

BEMIDJI, Minn. (AP) — The Minnesota Vikings' lakeside retreat bubbles with optimism. The Dutchman, called Norm Van Brocklin, talks of winning. So do Fran Tarkenton, Tommy Mason, Bill Brown and the others.

In five short years this franchise, born of expansion, has reached the stage of a bonafide contender for the Western Conference championship in the National Football League. Judicious draft choices, wise trades and the painstaking organization of head coach Van Brocklin are about ready to pay off.

"We've come to camp with the idea we're going to have our best year," said the Dutchman at Bemidji State College.

The record is clear for all to see: Seventh in 1961, sixth in 1962, fourth-place tie in 1963 and second-place tie in 1964. From a rag tag band of castoffs, who won only three games and gave up 407 points in '61, Van Brocklin has moulded a team that had the NFL in passing, was second in rushing and fourth in scoring last fall.

Van Brocklin's Vikings run the ball more often than they throw, following the pattern of Green Bay. Last year they ran 519 plays and passed 326 times.

"Tommy Mason and Bill Brown are as good as you could want for runners," said the Dutchman. "We need somebody behind Mason and hope Phil King can do the job. We're also figuring on Lance Rentzel (rookie from Oklahma) as a running back.

"Our receivers are going to be great. Paul Flatley is one of the best in the league at split end and Hal Bedsole at tight end is the fastest end we have. He has the right attitude now.

"We got Red Phillips from Los Angeles, an all-pro player in the deal for Jack Snow, and we expect Red to pick up where he left off before he was sidelined with that infected right knuckle. We also have Tom Hall, Bob Lacey and others.

"Mick Tingelhoff finally got recognition as an all-league center last year. Alderman is a great tackle and Larry Bowie has come on strong at guard. The rest of the offensive line probably will be Eric Linden at right tackle and Milt Sunde or Ken Byers at guard, unless some of the rookies come on fast."

Van Brocklin rates Jim Marshall, his defensive right end, as the best pass rusher in the league, and thinks Carl Eller, 6-foot-6, 255-pound second year from Minnesota, can be just as good. Jim Prestel and Paul Dickson are the regular tackles but Gary Larsen, acquired from the Rams, may replace one.

Van Brocklin expects to carry three quarterbacks with Ron VanderKelen and rookie Bob Berry of Oregon behind Tarkenton. Berry has been impressive in camp.

Bobby Walden developed into the league's top punter as a rookie in 1964. Fred Cox will handle the place kicking again.

U.S. Captain Has Change In Cup Lineup

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

BARCELONA, Spain (AP) — The United States takes the big gamble by sending Frank Froehling III instead of Arthur Ashe against the Spaniards Tuesday in the Interzone Davis Cup tennis final.

The American captain, George MacCall, tagged Froehling, a 6-foot-6 hard-hitting Coral Gables, Fla., boy for the No. 2 singles spot behind Dennis Ralston a few hours before the draw.

The matches start Tuesday with the opening two singles, followed by the doubles Wednesday and the final two singles Thursday.

Both the Spaniards and Americans are hoping for an opening match between the two big guns of the rival teams—Ralston, America's No. 1 player from Bakersfield, Calif., and Manuel Santana, the clay court precisionist who has beaten Ralston the four times they've met.

"We'll win, 3 to 2," calmly predicted Kurt Nielsen, the former Danish Davis Cupper who has coached the Spaniards to the Interzone final.

"We may be underdogs, but our boys are eager to go get 'em," countered MacCall. "We don't think we can be beaten."

The series looms as an individual duel between Ralston and Santana, each of whom will play all three matches. Ralston will team with Clark Graebner of Cleveland in doubles against the team of Santana and Jose Luis Arilla, which never has lost a match in Spain.

Chiefs Drop Rookie Who Hit Teammate

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City Chiefs have dropped a rookie defensive back from Ohio University who slugged a teammate.

Ron Fowlkes was dropped from the team after he punched rookie running back Doc Griffith of Auburn and broke his jaw. Griffith underwent surgery on the jaw Saturday.

The 210-pound Fowlkes and Griffith got into the altercation at the club's training camp cafeteria. Earlier on Friday, Griffith had broken Fowlkes' nose in a flare-up between the two on the practice field. They collided on a play and Griffith took several swings at Fowlkes.

Steve Nagy Described As 'Fair' After Stroke

Groza, Kelly Turn In Key Performances

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Coach Blanton Collier had praise for the "youngsters" after the Cleveland Browns defeated the San Francisco 49ers 37-21 Sunday, but it was the "old man" of the staff who put the biggest number of points on the scoreboard.

A second-year man, Leroy Kelly, turned in the most spectacular scoring run of the day, dashing 67 yards with a punt in the third quarter, and another "youngster", Walter Roberts, also had a good day.

The Browns' first National Football League exhibition of the season started off like a continuation of their 27-0 victory over the Baltimore Colts Dec. 27, when Frank Ryan hit Gary Collins on three touchdown passes to wrap up the NFL championship.

Toronto Threat To Columbus Jet

By The Associated Press

Toronto scored four runs in the top of the ninth inning to defeat Toledo 5-3 Sunday while Columbus lost a 15-1 decision to the last-place Buffalo Bisons. That left the Maple Leafs just one game out of first place.

Vikings Considered Top Contender For NFL Title

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

BEMIDJI, Minn. (AP) — The Minnesota Vikings' lakeside retreat bubbles with optimism. The Dutchman, called Norm Van Brocklin, talks of winning. So do Fran Tarkenton, Tommy Mason, Bill Brown and the others.

In five short years this franchise, born of expansion, has reached the stage of a bonafide contender for the Western Conference championship in the National Football League. Judicious draft choices, wise trades and the painstaking organization of head coach Van Brocklin are about ready to pay off.

The record is clear for all to see: Seventh in 1961, sixth in 1962, fourth-place tie in 1963 and second-place tie in 1964. From a rag tag band of castoffs, who won only three games and gave up 407 points in '61, Van Brocklin has moulded a team that had the NFL in passing, was second in rushing and fourth in scoring last fall.

Van Brocklin's Vikings run the ball more often than they throw, following the pattern of Green Bay. Last year they ran 519 plays and passed 326 times.

"Tommy Mason and Bill Brown are as good as you could want for runners," said the Dutchman. "We need somebody behind Mason and hope Phil King can do the job. We're also figuring on Lance Rentzel (rookie from Oklahma) as a running back.

"Our receivers are going to be great. Paul Flatley is one of the best in the league at split end and Hal Bedsole at tight end is the fastest end we have. He has the right attitude now.

"We got Red Phillips from Los Angeles, an all-pro player in the deal for Jack Snow, and we expect Red to pick up where he left off before he was sidelined with that infected right knuckle. We also have Tom Hall, Bob Lacey and others.

"Mick Tingelhoff finally got recognition as an all-league center last year. Alderman is a great tackle and Larry Bowie has come on strong at guard. The rest of the offensive line probably will be Eric Linden at right tackle and Milt Sunde or Ken Byers at guard, unless some of the rookies come on fast."

Van Brocklin rates Jim Marshall, his defensive right end, as the best pass rusher in the league, and thinks Carl Eller, 6-foot-6, 255-pound second year from Minnesota, can be just as good. Jim Prestel and Paul Dickson are the regular tackles but Gary Larsen, acquired from the Rams, may replace one.

Riverview Gains Pair In Playoffs

Riverview Florists took a two-game lead over Central Service in the best three out of five playoff in the Colt League Sunday.

In the other game, Riverview scored five runs in the second inning to walk away for a 10-3 win. Bob Pancake hurled a three hitter and fanned seven batters. Bickar was the loser.

Hall clubbed a three-run homer to account for Central's runs and Dan Smith tripled and scored four runs to spark Riverview.

U.S. Captain Has Change In Cup Lineup

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

BARCELONA, Spain (AP) — The United States takes the big gamble by sending Frank Froehling III instead of Arthur Ashe against the Spaniards Tuesday in the Interzone Davis Cup tennis final.

The American captain, George MacCall, tagged Froehling, a 6-foot-6 hard-hitting Coral Gables, Fla., boy for the No. 2 singles spot behind Dennis Ralston a few hours before the draw.

The matches start Tuesday with the opening two singles, followed by the doubles Wednesday and the final two singles Thursday.

Both the Spaniards and Americans are hoping for an opening match between the two big guns of the rival teams—Ralston, America's No. 1 player from Bakersfield, Calif., and Manuel Santana, the clay court precisionist who has beaten Ralston the four times they've met.

"We'll win, 3 to 2," calmly predicted Kurt Nielsen, the former Danish Davis Cupper who has coached the Spaniards to the Interzone final.

"We may be underdogs, but our boys are eager to go get 'em," countered MacCall. "We don't think we can be beaten."

The series looms as an individual duel between Ralston and Santana, each of whom will play all three matches. Ralston will team with Clark Graebner of Cleveland in doubles against the team of Santana and Jose Luis Arilla, which never has lost a match in Spain.

Chiefs Drop Rookie Who Hit Teammate

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City Chiefs have dropped a rookie defensive back from Ohio University who slugged a teammate.

Ron Fowlkes was dropped from the team after he punched rookie running back Doc Griffith of Auburn and broke his jaw. Griffith underwent surgery on the jaw Saturday.

The 210-pound Fowlkes and Griffith got into the altercation at the club's training camp cafeteria. Earlier on Friday, Griffith had broken Fowlkes' nose in a flare-up between the two on the practice field. They collided on a play and Griffith took several swings at Fowlkes.

Wins Checker Title

Groza, Kelly Turn In Key Performances

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Coach Blanton Collier had praise for the "youngsters" after the Cleveland Browns defeated the San Francisco 49ers 37-21 Sunday, but it was the "old man" of the staff who put the biggest number of points on the scoreboard.

Lou (The Toe) Groza, 41, the lone survivor from the original Browns team of 1946, kicked three field goals—one of them a 51-yarder—and four extra points to account for 14 points.

A second-year man, Leroy Kelly, turned in the most spectacular scoring run of the day, dashing 67 yards with a punt in the third quarter, and another "youngster", Walter Roberts, also had a good day.

The Browns' first National Football League exhibition of the season started off like a continuation of their 27-0 victory over the Baltimore Colts Dec. 27, when Frank Ryan hit Gary Collins on three touchdown passes to wrap up the NFL championship.

Collier gave Collins and Ryan a rest in the second quarter and tried Roberts at flanker. Roberts responded by taking four passes for 92 yards, including a 22-yard scoring pass from Jim Ninowski.

Ryan and Ninowski both looked good, hitting on the big ones. Ryan completed six of 17 attempts for 134 yards and Ninowski five of 12 for 155 yards.

Toronto Threat To Columbus Jet

By The Associated Press

The Columbus Jets, riding a five-game losing streak, are in danger of being replaced at the top of the International League standings by Toronto.

Toronto scored four runs in the top of the ninth inning to defeat Toledo 5-3 Sunday while Columbus lost a 15-1 decision to the last-place Buffalo Bisons. That left the Maple Leafs just one game out of first place.

In other action Atlanta dropped Jacksonville 7-3 and Syracuse took a doubleheader from Rochester, 4-1 and 7-5.

Buffalo got a total of 22 hits off four Jet pitchers, with every Bison getting at least two and driving in one run.

Ohio's Assembly Gets Into Action After Slow Start

Some Successes

The 106th will be remembered as the first legislature to tackle the touchy issue of racial discrimination in the sale and rental of housing.

Without overt prodding by civil rights demonstrators, the lawmakers passed a fair housing bill which will prohibit discrimination in the sale or rental of new housing and all existing dwellings except single and two-family homes.

For the first time in 30 years, the legislature revamped the state's complex welfare structure, putting all public assistance programs under county supervision and providing for participation in the federal medicare program.

Passage of the compromise bill put strip miners under legal obligation to do a better job of reclaiming the land they scar and to do everything possible to prevent acid drainage that ruins streams.

Spending Action

The dollar sign loomed larger than ever in this session as lawmakers reached deep into state and local treasuries to finance capital improvements, public education, myriad pay raises and highway construction.

A $1.5 billion general operating budget, largest in state history, packs $634 million over two years ago, the biggest increase ever.

INCLUDED in this is the $200-a-year pay increase for all teachers which had been promised by Rhodes before the session began.

The budget also carries $20 million a year for the next two years to increase the pay of 39,000 state employes, their first raise since 1959.

Lawmakers also guaranteed the next governor, lieutenant governor, auditor, treasurer, attorney general and secretary of state substantial raises.

The raises, effective in 1966, will increase the governor's pay from $25,000 to $40,000, the lieutenant governor's from $8,000 to $17,000, and the other top elected officials' from $15,000 to $25,000.

THE LEGISLATURE is hung up, temporarily, on distribution of funds from the $290 million capital improvements bond issue approved by voters last May.

But when the bill is resolved, the Assembly will have authorized spending of nearly $500 million from two bond issues for university branches, technical schools, parks and recreation facilities and other improvements.

THE LEGISLATURE took note of a pressing problem in the funding of police and firemen's pension programs throughout Ohio and passed a bill providing for a centralized pension system. In many instances it will cost both the department members and their respective cities more money.

Increased benefits to survivors and members of the three state retirement systems also were provided.

Financing To Come

The legislature created new state universities at Akron, Dayton and Toledo. The cost of staffing and operating these new facilities has not been estimated at this point.

ONE OF Gov. Rhodes' few requests to the legislature resulted in a law providing state financial assistance for building and operating juvenile correctional institutions throughout the state.

The state will pay $3,000 a bed for construction of the juvenile centers on a 50-50 matching fund basis and will pay $100 a month for operating costs.

For The Oil Boom

In addition to regulating the industry which scratches the surface of the earth for coal, the legislature enacted a sweeping set of regulations governing oil and gas drilling.

Prompted by the oil boom in Morrow County, the bill creates a new oil and gas division in the Department of Natural Resources and gives the division chief broad discretion in enforcing regulations, subject to approval by a technical advisory board.

Legislation Enacted

PLACE on the Nov. 2 ballot a proposed constitutional amendment to permit counties containing cities of 50,000 population or more to form urban service authorities for extension of a metropolitan form of government.

TIGHTEN regulations on nursing homes in an effort to prevent recurrence of tragedies such as the Fitchville Nursing Home fire which took 63 lives in November 1963.

REDUCE from 21 to about 12 the number of tuberculosis hospitals in Ohio, doubling the daily $2.50 per-patient state subsidy to those designated regional facilities.

PROVIDE for creation of community improvement corporations and extension of state and local financial help to attract industries and help others to expand.

Unresolved Matters

Unresolved as the legislature suspended sessions until Aug. 31 was the problem of reapportioning the House to conform to the federal court's one-man, one-vote dictum.

Although technically still on the agenda when the lawmakers return, Statehouse observers doubt any solution on reapportionment will come out of this session.

Best guess at this point is that the legislature will hand the problem back to the federal court along with the dozen or more proposals which were introduced but never acted upon.

Among Bills Killed

LOWER the legal voting age from 21 to 19.

OVERHAUL Ohio's judicial system to provide, among other things, for appointment instead of election of state judges.

ASK voters to decide whether the state should continue to exact the death penalty for capital crimes.

PERMIT the sale of liquor on Sunday in counties of 800,000 population or more.

AS USUAL, more bills were killed than passed, but the production record of the 106th exceeded by far the won-lost tally of the 105th.

The 106th passed almost one of every three bills introduced. In the 105th, the record was closer to one in five.

Election Bet He Won Overdue, Overweight

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Chief Sheriff Jack Knudtson had to wait eight months to collect an election bet. And when payment came, it was not only overdue but overweight.

Eight months later Piersch wheeled the payoff into the Douglas County Courthouse office.

In the grocery cart was a 70-pound calf on the hoof, plus all the other ingredients of a pair of steak dinners.

Check Cases Set Thursday

Hearings for two area brothers and a Glenmoor housewife, accused of writing fraudulent checks were continued today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff until Tuesday morning to permit the defendants to obtain counsel.

Judge Chertoff continued a $1,000 bond for Mrs. Betty L. Stark, 34, of Annesley Rd. and set the same bonds for Robert Earl Donahue, 23, and Lester Donahue, 19, both of Dresden Ave. Ext.

He warned the three defendants that they should try to obtain counsel since they are facing "serious" allegations.

Mrs. Stark is accused of uttering a fraudulent check on April 30 to Loblaw's, Inc., for $17.65 and drawn on the First National Bank. The affidavit was filed Aug. 6 by Gene Stockdale of the Dresden Ave. store. The check shows it was returned for "insufficient funds."

The affidavits against the Donahue brothers accusing them of forging or falsely altering checks with the name of Ray Campbell were filed by Fred Rayl.

The checks show both were returned to Rayl and were marked "no account."

Another Street Added To Summer Program

One more segment has been added to a list of streets scheduled for low-cost summer surfacing, Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey said today.

Property - owners have petitioned for the surfacing of Hayward Alley from Beechwood Ave. to the dead end, the director said, boosting to 21 the number of streets on which the work is scheduled.

The director is expected to submit a report on the program at the meeting of City Council tonight. Council already has appropriated $12,000 for the work and has indicated it will make more funds available if necessary.

A representative of the Ohio Tar & Asphalt Co. is scheduled to inspect the streets Tuesday, Vodrey said. A division of Allied Enterprises, Inc., of Canton, Ohio Tar was awarded the contract for the low-cost surfacing last week.

Gets Smallest Pension

MACERATA, Italy (AP) — Pierina Bernardi, 72, is believed to receive the smallest pension in Italy. She gets 120 lire (20 cents) a year for having worked in a state tobacco factory back in the 1920's. That is about the price of one soft drink in Italy today.

the House, where most legislation originates, to write bills more carefully to attract bipartisan support.

Some Successes

The 106th will be remembered as the first legislature to tackle the touchy issue of racial discrimination in the sale and rental of housing.

Without overt prodding by civil rights demonstrators, the lawmakers passed a fair housing bill which will prohibit discrimination in the sale or rental of new housing and all existing dwellings except single and two-family homes.

For the first time in 30 years, the legislature revamped the state's complex welfare structure, putting all public assistance programs under county supervision and providing for participation in the federal medicare program.

A bill providing equal school bus transportation for public, private and parochial school children traveled a long and bumpy road before passing with considerable help from the Rhodes administration.

Passage of the compromise bill put strip miners under legal obligation to do a better job of reclaiming the land they scar and to do everything possible to prevent acid drainage that ruins streams.

Spending Action

The dollar sign loomed larger than ever in this session as lawmakers reached deep into state and local treasuries to finance capital improvements, public education, myriad pay raises and highway construction.

A $1.5 billion general operating budget, largest in state history, packs $634 million over two years ago, the biggest increase ever.

INCLUDED in this is the $200-a-year pay increase for all teachers which had been promised by Rhodes before the session began.

The budget also carries $20 million a year for the next two years to increase the pay of 39,000 state employes, their first raise since 1959.

Lawmakers also guaranteed the next governor, lieutenant governor, auditor, treasurer, attorney general and secretary of state substantial raises.

The raises, effective in 1966, will increase the governor's pay from $25,000 to $40,000, the lieutenant governor's from $8,000 to $17,000, and the other top elected officials' from $15,000 to $25,000.

THE LEGISLATURE is hung up, temporarily, on distribution of funds from the $290 million capital improvements bond issue approved by voters last May.

But when the bill is resolved, the Assembly will have authorized spending of nearly $500 million from two bond issues for university branches, technical schools, parks and recreation facilities and other improvements.

It paved the way for an ambitious highway program with passage of an $890 million highway appropriation bill.

THE LEGISLATURE took note of a pressing problem in the funding of police and firemen's pension programs throughout Ohio and passed a bill providing for a centralized pension system. In many instances it will cost both the department members and their respective cities more money.

Increased benefits to survivors and members of the three state retirement systems also were provided.

Financing To Come

While spending occupied a big portion of the Assembly's time, another financial problem remains to be faced.

The legislature created new state universities at Akron, Dayton and Toledo. The cost of staffing and operating these new facilities has not been estimated at this point.

ONE OF Gov. Rhodes' few requests to the legislature resulted in a law providing state financial assistance for building and operating juvenile correctional institutions throughout the state.

The state will pay $3,000 a bed for construction of the juvenile centers on a 50-50 matching fund basis and will pay $100 a month for operating costs.

For The Oil Boom

In addition to regulating the industry which scratches the surface of the earth for coal, the legislature enacted a sweeping set of regulations governing oil and gas drilling.

Prompted by the oil boom in Morrow County, the bill creates a new oil and gas division in the Department of Natural Resources and gives the division chief broad discretion in enforcing regulations, subject to approval by a technical advisory board.

Legislation Enacted

PLACE on the Nov. 2 ballot a proposed constitutional amendment to permit counties containing cities of 50,000 population or more to form urban service authorities for extension of a metropolitan form of government.

TIGHTEN regulations on nursing homes in an effort to prevent recurrence of tragedies such as the Fitchville Nursing Home fire which took 63 lives in November 1963.

REDUCE from 21 to about 12 the number of tuberculosis hospitals in Ohio, doubling the daily $2.50 per-patient state subsidy to those designated regional facilities.

REPEAL an antiquated law banning distribution and possession of birth control devices or information about them.

PROVIDE for creation of community improvement corporations and extension of state and local financial help to attract industries and help others to expand.

Unresolved Matters

Unresolved as the legislature suspended sessions until Aug. 31 was the problem of reapportioning the House to conform to the federal court's one-man, one-vote dictum.

Although technically still on the agenda when the lawmakers return, Statehouse observers doubt any solution on reapportionment will come out of this session.

Best guess at this point is that the legislature will hand the problem back to the federal court along with the dozen or more proposals which were introduced but never acted upon.

Among Bills Killed

Among bills killed by the Assembly were proposals to:

BAN sale of milk and other dairy products below cost to entice business.

LOWER the legal voting age from 21 to 19.

OVERHAUL Ohio's judicial system to provide, among other things, for appointment instead of election of state judges.

ASK voters to decide whether the state should continue to exact the death penalty for capital crimes.

PERMIT the sale of liquor on Sunday in counties of 800,000 population or more.

AS USUAL, more bills were killed than passed, but the production record of the 106th exceeded by far the won-lost tally of the 105th.

The 106th passed almost one of every three bills introduced. In the 105th, the record was closer to one in five.

Election Bet He Won Overdue, Overweight

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Chief Sheriff Jack Knudtson had to wait eight months to collect an election bet. And when payment came, it was not only overdue but overweight.

Knudtson won. But he couldn't collect.

Eight months later Piersch wheeled the payoff into the Douglas County Courthouse office.

In the grocery cart was a 70-pound calf on the hoof, plus all the other ingredients of a pair of steak dinners.

Check Cases Set Thursday

Hearings for two area brothers and a Glenmoor housewife, accused of writing fraudulent checks were continued today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff until Tuesday morning to permit the defendants to obtain counsel.

Judge Chertoff continued a $1,000 bond for Mrs. Betty L. Stark, 34, of Annesley Rd. and set the same bonds for Robert Earl Donahue, 23, and Lester Donahue, 19, both of Dresden Ave. Ext.

He warned the three defendants that they should try to obtain counsel since they are facing "serious" allegations.

Mrs. Stark is accused of uttering a fraudulent check on April 30 to Loblaw's, Inc., for $17.65 and drawn on the First National Bank. The affidavit was filed Aug. 6 by Gene Stockdale of the Dresden Ave. store. The check shows it was returned for "insufficient funds."

The affidavits against the Donahue brothers accusing them of forging or falsely altering checks with the name of Ray Campbell were filed by Fred Rayl.

Robert is charged with altering or forging a $20 check made out to himself on July 23 and signed by "Ray Campbell."

The checks show both were returned to Rayl and were marked "no account."

Another Street Added To Summer Program

One more segment has been added to a list of streets scheduled for low-cost summer surfacing, Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey said today.

Property - owners have petitioned for the surfacing of Hayward Alley from Beechwood Ave. to the dead end, the director said, boosting to 21 the number of streets on which the work is scheduled.

The director is expected to submit a report on the program at the meeting of City Council tonight. Council already has appropriated $12,000 for the work and has indicated it will make more funds available if necessary.

A representative of the Ohio Tar & Asphalt Co. is scheduled to inspect the streets Tuesday, Vodrey said. A division of Allied Enterprises, Inc., of Canton, Ohio Tar was awarded the contract for the low-cost surfacing last week.

Gets Smallest Pension

MACERATA, Italy (AP) — Pierina Bernardi, 72, is believed to receive the smallest pension in Italy. She gets 120 lire (20 cents) a year for having worked in a state tobacco factory back in the 1920's. That is about the price of one soft drink in Italy today.

CONCRETE

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Cement is a powder made from crushed limestone and some other ingredients. The most common type is called Portland cement. When this is mixed with water there is a chemical reaction which produces a hard, stonelike material. Cement is sold in stores carrying building supplies. Concrete is a very strong, long-lasting material made principally from cement. To make four cubic feet of concrete you would use one bag of cement (94 lbs.) mixing this with five and one-half gallons of water, about 200 lbs. of sand and 260 lbs. of coarse aggregate, this meaning broken pieces of rock from ½ to ¾ inches in size. These mixtures have other proportions, depending on the concrete's use. When these are mixed, they can be poured inside a wooden form, which can be removed when the concrete is dry. Many buildings are constructed of concrete cast in the handy form of blocks, as shown being laid in the lower picture. The man in foreground is mixing the material used to bind them together, called mortar. It is similar to concrete, but the crushed rock or aggregate is left out as this would make it too coarse. Hydrated lime is often added to make the mixture more workable for special jobs, such as filling the joints between bricks.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Learn more about concrete, for there are many ways you can use it around a house and garden. It is a big job to mix yourself, but you can buy mixtures ready made. All you have to do is add water.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—Is there any way I can make my bathroom mirrors "steam-proof"?

A.—You can usually avoid the annoyance of steamed - up bathroom mirrors if you coat them with a little soap - type shaving cream. Rub the excess cream off with a dry cloth or tissues.

Q.—How can I remove paint spatters that have been allowed to harden on my floor?

A.—Moisten these spatters with fingernail polish remover, allow this to soak in for a few minutes, then rub off with a cloth, and wash with warm suds. The paint usually disappears, no matter how long it has been there.

A.—You can usually fluff these dents back into shape by covering them with a damp cloth, then applying a hot iron over them, after which brush with a stiff brush.

Q.—How can I make paint adhere readily to tinware?

A.—By use of the following method: Rub the surface of the tinware thoroughly with a piece of rough pumice stone or coarse sandpaper. Then apply a thin coat of shellac varnish, after which the surface will take your paint very easily.

Q.—How can I renew the finish on some of my furniture?

A.—Equal parts of boiled linseed oil, turpentine, and white vinegar, applied with a woolen rag and polished with a silk cloth, will renew the finish and also help conceal some of the smaller blemishes.

Q.—Is there any way I can refreshen rancid butter?

A.—You can try melting it and skimming it, then putting a piece of fresh toast in it. The toast acts as an absorbent of the odor.

Medicare And Social Security

How Widows Fare Under Program

By JOHN TROAN
NEA Special Writer

Congress has now made it possible for widows to draw monthly Social Security benefits as early as age 60.

Effective Sept. 1, 1965, a woman no longer need wait until she is 62 to collect such checks. However, the size of the check is reduced if she applies for her widow's benefit before 62.

Normally, the widow of a worker who was insured under Social Security is entitled to 82½ per cent of her husband's primary benefit — what he would have received if he had lived to retire at age 65.

13th In A Series

BUT SHE can get that much only if she waits until she is 62 to apply. If she chooses to start collecting at age 61, she gets only 77 per cent; at age 60, only 71½ per cent.

Actually, a widow may draw Social Security benefits even before she is 60—provided she has an unmarried child under 18 or one who was disabled before age 18.

But unless she has a disabled child in her care this payment —which amounts to a mother's rather than a widow's benefit— stops when her youngest child reaches 18. And she then can't resume collecting Social Security checks until she herself becomes 60 (and isn't married at the time).

There's also a difference in the eligibility rules. A widow with a disabled child or one under 18 may collect survivors' benefits if the worker was either "currently" or "fully" insured under Social Security. But if she has no such children she can collect benefits only if he was "fully" insured.

TO BE fully insured, a person must work under Social Security for periods ranging up to 10 years — depending on his year of birth. To be currently insured, he must work only 1½ of the three years preceding death.

Whether the worker was fully or currently insured, each of his surviving children is entitled to 75 per cent of his primary benefit. This pertains to any child under 18; any child under 22 who is still a full-time student; and any child of any age who is incapable of self-support due to physical or mental disability incurred before age 18.

The "student benefit" is new, and it is retroactive to Jan. 1, 1965. But unless she is at least 60, the widowed mother of such a student cannot collect an extra benefit for herself — as she can if she has a disabled child or a youngster under 18.

In any event, there is a limit on how much one family can draw each month. This now ranges from $66 to $309.20, depending on the deceased worker's average earnings under Social Security. The ceiling will go up to $368 in 1967.

WHEN A worker dies, his parents also may collect survivors' benefits.

To qualify, a parent must be at least 62 and must have received at least half of his financial support from the worker. Also, the worker must have been fully insured at time of death.

The monthly payment to one dependent parent equals 82½ per cent of the worker's primary benefit. If there are two dependent parents, each gets 75 per cent.

Sometimes a widower qualifies. To do so, he must be at least 62 and must have depended on his wife for at least half of his financial support.

Also, she must have been both fully and currently insured under Social Security. The payment to a dependent widower is 82½ per cent of the wife's primary benefit.

Also available when a worker dies is a lump-sum death benefit. It is equal to three times the worker's primary monthly benefit, up to a maximum of $255.

This is paid to the widow or widower, provided the spouse was living with the worker at time of death or paid the burial expenses. Otherwise, the lump-sum benefit goes to the person who paid for the funeral.

(Next — Who is taxed how much for Social Security benefits.)

WIDOW'S CASH BENEFITS

The examples are for (1) a widow aged 62 who has no disabled children or youngsters under 18, and (2) a widow under 60 who has one such child. The family maximum is also indicated.

Annual Yearly Earnings	Age 62 (No Child)	Under 60 (One Child)	Family Maximum
$804 or less	$44.00	$ 66.00	$66.00
$1,200	52.20	94.80	94.80
$1,800	64.60	117.40	120.00
$2,400	74.20	135.00	161.60
$3,000	83.90	152.60	202.40
$3,600	92.80	168.60	240.00
$4,200	102.50	186.40	280.80
$4,800	112.20	204.00	309.20
$6,600*	138.60*	252.00*	368.00*

*—Not possible until 1967, and then only in rare cases.

'Fulfilled Our Hopes'

Kennedy Declares JFK Picked Johnson As Best

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — John F. Kennedy chose Lyndon B. Johnson as his running mate in 1960 because he considered him "the best man to carry on," Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., said Sunday night.

"He's fulfilled all of our hopes since then," said the younger brother of the late president.

Sen. Kennedy, speaking at a Democratic dinner, made no reference to the published account by Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr., historian and assistant to President Kennedy, that the nomination was offered to Johnson as a political gesture in the belief there was "practically no chance Johnson would accept."

The former attorney general cited passage of programs in civil rights, medical assistance for the elderly, and federal aid to elementary and secondary schools under the Johnson administration.

Referring to Kennedy's 1960 primary campaigns in Wisconsin and other states, the New York senator said of the programs' passage:

"All of this has happened because men had a dream and were willing to go to the people and ask for their support on the basis of these programs. President Kennedy was such a man. And he knew that Lyndon Johnson was such a man, that he was committed to these programs, that he shared their dreams, that he was the best man to carry on this fight.

"It was for this reason that President Kennedy wanted Lyndon Johnson to run with him for vice president in 1960."

Sen. Kennedy's comments came in a speech recapping accomplishments of the Kennedy and Johnson administrations at a $50 a plate testimonial dinner for Wisconsin Democratic Lt. Gov. Patrick J. Lucey.

GOP Slates Fund Outing At Gettysburg

WASHINGTON (AP) — Big-money contributors to the Republican treasury have an appointment in the country Thursday with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

They will eat lunch in a tent and listen to political pep talks and the oom-pah of a high school band.

The trip to Eisenhower's farm near Gettysburg, Pa., is the Republican National Finance Committee's reward for those who have contributed — or may contribute — $1,000 or more to help fill the party's treasury.

A GOP spokesman says 200 to 225 persons are expected. Speakers will include Eisenhower and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon. The 70-piece Gettysburg High School band will provide the music.

The outing is a major effort by the finance committee in its competition with GOP splinter groups for campaign donations.

Funeral Rites Slated For Wetzel Delegate

NEW MARTINSVILLE, W.Va. (AP)—Last rites will be held here Tuesday for Del. Herbert E. Schupbach, D-Wetzel, who suffered a fatal heart attack Saturday.

Schupbach, 59, had served in the House longer than any other current member. He was first elected in 1938 and had served continuously since then except for the 1950-51 term.

He was a 1932 graduate of West Liberty State College.

Reno Fire Brings Out Throngs Of Gamblers

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Crowds swarmed out of Reno's gambling casinos to watch an early morning fire in such numbers Sunday that snarling police dogs were used to keep onlookers from interfering with firemen.

The blaze burned out the Reno branch of the Nevada Bank of Commerce and caused smoke and water damage to several other offices.

How Widows Fare Under Program

By JOHN TROAN
NEA Special Writer

Congress has now made it possible for widows to draw monthly Social Security benefits as early as age 60.

Effective Sept. 1, 1965, a woman no longer need wait until she is 62 to collect such checks. However, the size of the check is reduced if she applies for her widow's benefit before 62.

Normally, the widow of a worker who was insured under Social Security is entitled to 82½ per cent of her husband's primary benefit — what he would have received if he had lived to retire at age 65.

BUT SHE can get that much only if she waits until she is 62 to apply. If she chooses to start collecting at age 61, she gets only 77 per cent; at age 60, only 71½ per cent.

Actually, a widow may draw Social Security benefits even before she is 60—provided she has an unmarried child under 18 or one who was disabled before age 18.

In such event, the widow gets 75 per cent of her deceased husband's primary benefit.

But unless she has a disabled child in her care this payment —which amounts to a mother's rather than a widow's benefit— stops when her youngest child reaches 18. And she then can't resume collecting Social Security checks until she herself becomes 60 (and isn't married at the time).

There's also a difference in the eligibility rules. A widow with a disabled child or one under 18 may collect survivors' benefits if the worker was either "currently" or "fully" insured under Social Security. But if she has no such children she can collect benefits only if he was "fully" insured.

TO BE fully insured, a person must work under Social Security for periods ranging up to 10 years — depending on his year of birth. To be currently insured, he must work only 1½ of the three years preceding death.

Whether the worker was fully or currently insured, each of his surviving children is entitled to 75 per cent of his primary benefit. This pertains to any child under 18; any child under 22 who is still a full-time student; and any child of any age who is incapable of self-support due to physical or mental disability incurred before age 18.

The "student benefit" is new, and it is retroactive to Jan. 1, 1965. But unless she is at least 60, the widowed mother of such a student cannot collect an extra benefit for herself — as she can if she has a disabled child or a youngster under 18.

In any event, there is a limit on how much one family can draw each month. This now ranges from $66 to $309.20, depending on the deceased worker's average earnings under Social Security. The ceiling will go up to $368 in 1967.

WHEN A worker dies, his parents also may collect survivors' benefits.

To qualify, a parent must be at least 62 and must have received at least half of his financial support from the worker. Also, the worker must have been fully insured at time of death.

The monthly payment to one dependent parent equals 82½ per cent of the worker's primary benefit. If there are two dependent parents, each gets 75 per cent.

Sometimes a widower qualifies. To do so, he must be at least 62 and must have depended on his wife for at least half of his financial support.

Also, she must have been both fully and currently insured under Social Security. The payment to a dependent widower is 82½ per cent of the wife's primary benefit.

Also available when a worker dies is a lump-sum death benefit. It is equal to three times the worker's primary monthly benefit, up to a maximum of $255.

This is paid to the widow or widower, provided the spouse was living with the worker at time of death or paid the burial expenses. Otherwise, the lump-sum benefit goes to the person who paid for the funeral.

WIDOW'S CASH BENEFITS

The examples are for (1) a widow aged 62 who has no disabled children or youngsters under 18, and (2) a widow under 60 who has one such child. The family maximum is also indicated.

$804 or less	$44.00	$ 66.00	$66.00
$1,200	52.20	94.80	94.80
$1,800	64.60	117.40	120.00
$2,400	74.20	135.00	161.60
$3,000	83.90	152.60	202.40
$3,600	92.80	168.60	240.00
$4,200	102.50	186.40	280.80

'Fulfilled Our Hopes'

Kennedy Declares JFK Picked Johnson As Best

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — John F. Kennedy chose Lyndon B. Johnson as his running mate in 1960 because he considered him "the best man to carry on," Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., said Sunday night.

"He's fulfilled all of our hopes since then," said the younger brother of the late president.

Sen. Kennedy, speaking at a Democratic dinner, made no reference to the published account by Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr., historian and assistant to President Kennedy, that the nomination was offered to Johnson as a political gesture in the belief there was "practically no chance Johnson would accept."

The former attorney general cited passage of programs in civil rights, medical assistance for the elderly, and federal aid to elementary and secondary schools under the Johnson administration.

Referring to Kennedy's 1960 primary campaigns in Wisconsin and other states, the New York senator said of the programs' passage:

"All of this has happened because men had a dream and were willing to go to the people and ask for their support on the basis of these programs. President Kennedy was such a man. And he knew that Lyndon Johnson was such a man, that he was committed to these programs, that he shared their dreams, that he was the best man to carry on this fight.

"It was for this reason that President Kennedy wanted Lyndon Johnson to run with him for vice president in 1960."

Sen. Kennedy's comments came in a speech recapping accomplishments of the Kennedy and Johnson administrations at a $50 a plate testimonial dinner for Wisconsin Democratic Lt. Gov. Patrick J. Lucey.

GOP Slates Fund Outing At Gettysburg

WASHINGTON (AP) — Big-money contributors to the Republican treasury have an appointment in the country Thursday with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

They will eat lunch in a tent and listen to political pep talks and the oom-pah of a high school band.

The trip to Eisenhower's farm near Gettysburg, Pa., is the Republican National Finance Committee's reward for those who have contributed — or may contribute — $1,000 or more to help fill the party's treasury.

A GOP spokesman says 200 to 225 persons are expected. Speakers will include Eisenhower and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon. The 70-piece Gettysburg High School band will provide the music.

The outing is a major effort by the finance committee in its competition with GOP splinter groups for campaign donations.

Funeral Rites Slated For Wetzel Delegate

NEW MARTINSVILLE, W.Va. (AP)—Last rites will be held here Tuesday for Del. Herbert E. Schupbach, D-Wetzel, who suffered a fatal heart attack Saturday.

Schupbach, 59, had served in the House longer than any other current member. He was first elected in 1938 and had served continuously since then except for the 1950-51 term.

He was a 1932 graduate of West Liberty State College.

Reno Fire Brings Out Throngs Of Gamblers

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Crowds swarmed out of Reno's gambling casinos to watch an early morning fire in such numbers Sunday that snarling police dogs were used to keep onlookers from interfering with firemen.

The blaze burned out the Reno branch of the Nevada Bank of Commerce and caused smoke and water damage to several other offices.
